THE O'SULLIVAN CAMPAIGN TOUR WORLD WAITING TO HEAR FROM THE

Foss, Hamlin, Walsh and O'Sullivan Speak—Young Roosevelt Interrupted at Andover

CONTEST BETWEEN ADRIANOPE AND KIRK-KILISSEH

Humphrey O'Sullivan made a whirlwind tour of the fifth congressional district yesterday, and cheering crowds greeted him along the way. He was accompanied by his campaign manager, Major Robert J. Crowley, Hon. Charles E. Hamlin, Cornelius Cronin, chairman of the democratic city committee, and a representative of the Sun. The party made the tour in automobiles, leaving O'Sullivan headquarters shortly after 9 o'clock, reaching Hudson and Maynard at the noon hour after covering Pepperell, Groton and Ayer.

Governor Foss joined the party later in the day, and Hon. David L. Walsh, candidate for lieutenant governor, was met at Hudson and all continued the trip together, speaking to large and appreciative audiences. It certainly does look good for the democrats in the fifth district, judging from the reception the party received yesterday.

Governor Foss spoke on agricultural development and the control of railroad corporations by the state, and charged that the republican leaders were in alliance with the railroads. The governor did not forget to speak a good word for Humphrey O'Sullivan. He said it would be to the very best interest of the district to elect Mr. O'Sullivan.

CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT

TO SUE FOR A DIVORCE

Young Man Employed at Lowell Co-Operative Association Was Arrested Today

Charles R. Brigham, a young man employed at the Lowell Co-operative association in Middlesex street, was arrested on a warrant charging him with embezzlement of $44 from the association by Sgt. William Groux about 7 o'clock this morning.

The young man, besides delivering goods, also made collections, and it is alleged that he appropriated some of the money collected for personal use.

When the case was called in court this morning Daniel J. Donahue, counsel for Brigham, waived the reading of the complaint and by agreement the case was continued till tomorrow morning, the defendant being held under $200 bonds for his appearance at that time.

Neglect of Wife

The case of Frederick D. Gath, charged with neglecting his wife, proved to be like many others brought before the court. The principal trouble was that both were quick tempered, each having admitted so, which resulted in the wife leaving the husband. Judge Enright essayed the role of peacemaker, and it is expected that there will be a reconciliation.

Mrs. Gath testified that she was married to her husband two years ago and has a child who will be a year old next month. She left him on Sept. 9th and went to live with her mother. She said that since she left her husband he has given her but $2. She said he agreed to pay her $5 a week but failed to do so.

"Why did you leave your husband?" asked Mr. Wilson.

"He ordered me out of the house and told me to go to work or starve," answered the witness.

Cross-examined by Mr. Donahue, Mrs. Gath said for a year and six months her husband turned all of his pay over to her and that during that time he did not buy any clothes for himself.

"You like to dance, don't you?" asked Mr. Donahue.

"Yes," answered Mrs. Gath.

Firemen Ordered to do Patrol Duty

Because of the burning out of four fire alarm boxes in Belvidere early this morning as a result of the storm causing an electric light wire to come in contact with wires of the fire alarm telegraph system, the mechanism in the boxes have been removed and sent away to be repaired. In the meantime it will be impossible to sound an alarm from boxes 14, 41, 131 or 143.

In order to offer as much protection as possible during the time that the boxes are out of commission, Chief Hosmer has assigned a fireman to patrol that section of Belvidere from seven o'clock tonight until seven o'clock tomorrow morning. Tomorrow night another fireman will be detailed to patrol duty and the district will be covered every night by firemen until the boxes are repaired.

Chief Hosmer in conversation with a representative of The Sun this afternoon said that in case of a fire being discovered in the section covered by those four boxes the person who makes the discovery should run to the nearest telephone and after securing a connection with the central office state that there is a fire at such a place, giving the name of the street and number. After the operator has repeated the street and number the caller should hang up the phone for the operator will then send the alarm to the different fire stations.

The following are the boxes that are out of commission:

14—Andover street, corner of Pay-rimack.

41—High street, corner of East-Mor-rimack.

131—Howe street, corner of East-Mor-rimack.

143—Alder street, corner of Bartlett. The bell on the High street church, which rings for every alarm of fire, is also out of order.

STATE DEPARTMENT WONDERING IF TURKEY WILL PROTEST AGAINST EXODUS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Whether Turkey can or will protest against the exodus of Greeks and their hundreds of thousands of dollars from this country to prosecute the war in the Balkans against Turkish rule is a question that is occupying officials here. Thus far Turkey has offered no protest but the attitude to be assumed by the United States in the event of such a contingency has raised a delicate question. State department officials already have given it much thought.

The right of free speech is guaranteed to the Greeks in the United States so long as they keep within bounds and they can send their earnings home if they choose without having to explain to what purpose the money shall be put when it arrives there. There have been no armed military expeditions leaving United States shores and under international law no breach of international peace has been committed. It is admitted, however, that the exodus of numerous bands of Greeks is for the avowed purpose of engaging in the war and the funds sent abroad to finance the struggle. The question of whether the fact permits the United States to take any action of such a condition is within the spirit of international law has raised a nice problem.

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—A party of about 125 Greek army reservists and volunteers left Boston early today for New York from which city they expected to sail for Greece later in the day. Some of the men paid their own expenses while the cost of the journey for others was borne by the Pan-Hellenic union.

THE SERVIAN ARMY HAS BEEN DEFEATED BY THE TURKISH TROOPS NEAR KUMANOVA

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 24.—The Servian army operating near Kumanova has been defeated by the Turkish troops defending that town and which is on the way to Uskup.

The Servians suffered enormous losses, according to an official despatch from the commander in chief of the Turkish western army. The Turkish troops are pursuing them energetically. The Servian army is believed to have comprised four strong divisions.

WIDOW SETTLES SUIT

Claimed Her Husband Lost $598,000

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—The suit of Mrs. Helen Augusta Clark against Hawes, Tewksbury & Co., bankers at 19 Congress street, to recover $598,000, which she claimed her husband lost in stock gambling, has been settled out of court.

She claimed that he was mentally incompetent to transact business during the period in which he was trading with the defendants, and was also addicted to the use of liquor.

The terms of the settlement have not been made known, but it is understood that a substantial sum was given to the widow by the brokerage concern.

Clark was the son of John Clark, who at one time was known as the "millionaire sheriff" of Suffolk county, and his wealth, estimated at $2,000,000, descended to his son.

Gibbons Fight Postponed

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—At the request of Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul middleweight, the proposed ten-round bout with Eddie McGoorty of Oshkosh, originally scheduled for Nov. 11 in Madison Square Garden, probably will be postponed until Dec. 2. It appears that Gibbons' right arm, which was injured in a recent bout with Tommy Maloney in the garden, has not mended as rapidly as at first expected.

Reading Man Drowned

LYNN, Oct. 24.—Gilbert G. Hunt of Reading, a summer resident at Nahant, was drowned while lobster fishing mid-way between Nahant and Winthrop yesterday.

A motor boat used by Hunt was found with the power on and describing circles about a lobster trap. Edwin Crowell, a Nahant fisherman, discovered the empty boat. No trace of Hunt's body could be found, although the life-savers grappled for it. It is supposed that he lost his balance while attempting to pull in a lobster trap.

Harvest Supper

The weather did not interfere with the attendance at the Gingham Street Methodist church last night. A large number were present and they were served with a good supper. Mrs. D. T. Norris was in charge, and was assisted by Mrs. L. Lacroix, Mrs. Fred Leitch, Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Thomas Gardner, Mrs. W. Thompson, Mrs. Hendrix, Mrs. Sarah Potter, Mrs. Thomas Higginbottom, Mrs. Killeby, Mrs. Prindle, Mrs. Alice Greenwood, Mrs. Medley and Mrs. John Craft.

BEWARE YOUNG MAN

IT'S THE LITTLE DANDRUFF GERMS THAT ARE CAUSING YOUR HAIR TO THIN OUT

Parisian Sage Stops Falling Hair and Does Not Contain Poisonous Lead or Dyes

The clever young man of today doesn't take any chances on losing his hair. A man who is baldheaded at 30 looks like 45, and is placed at a disadvantage when seeking employment.

If you have dandruff it means down near the roots of your hair an army of dandruff germs are attacking the hair root and destroying its vitality. Then hair falls out; grows thin and baldness results. Young man, put your faith in the delightful PARISIAN SAGE, it will stop falling hair, kill dandruff germs, abolish dandruff and itching scalp, or money back.

PARISIAN SAGE is only 50 cents a bottle at your druggist's and dealers everywhere. Girl with auburn hair on every carton. Ask for PARISIAN SAGE.

French's paper box shop. A few years ago, although working in the shop during the day, Mr. Carpentier conducted a candy establishment in Salem street, and made his own candy.

Mrs. Carpentier was born at St. Hyacinthe, Que., on May 21, 1865, and has been a resident of this city for the past 27 years. The couple were married in Lowell on Oct. 24, 1887, the ceremony being performed at the immaculate Conception rectory by the late Rev. A. M. Garin. At that time St. Joseph's church in Lee street had been opened, but the Oblate fathers of that parish made their home at the immaculate Conception church rectory.

Eight children were born to the happy couple, six of whom are living, namely: Eva, Wilfred, Gertrude, Lauretta, Leo and Aurèle. Mr. Carpentier is a prominent member of the C. M. A. C. and of Lowell's council, R. A., while his wife is a respected member of St. Anne's society of St. Joseph's parish. This evening a reception will be held at their home, those to take part to be only the immediate relatives.

IN PART OF BELVIDERE LAST NIGHT

Cross of a Light Wire is Thought to Have Caused the Trouble—Temporary Repairs Made

The heavy rainstorm last night raised havoc with the fire and police telegraph systems and numerous boxes were put out of commission. The principal damage was done in Belvidere and Electrician Burns of the police department and Electrician Fernald of the fire department have been kept on the jump since about 2:30 o'clock this morning endeavoring to locate the trouble and make the necessary repairs. Several of the boxes, especially those on the police telegraph system, were damaged to such an extent that they will have to be sent to the Gamewell company to be repaired.

Four fire boxes and five police boxes in Belvidere were put out of commission and that the patrolmen who rang in from the police boxes in question were not seriously injured is little short of a miracle. Electrician Burns stated that the trouble to the police boxes was caused by an electric light wire coming in contact with a police wire on a guy which led to a connecting box.

Both Messrs. Burns and Fernald have succeeded in making temporary repairs for the present in order that the telegraph systems will not be seriously impaired.

One of the freaks of the storm caused the sounding of between 20 and 30 blows on the bell in the cupola on the Highland school in Pine street about two o'clock this morning and people living within sounding distance of the bell thought it was a riot call.

Mayor O'Donnell upon learning of the damage done to the police and fire telegraph systems stated that he would take the matter up with representatives of the Lowell Electric Light Corporation and the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. in order to locate the cause of the trouble.

Clapp Committee Adjourned WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—After a brief executive session today the Clapp committee investigating campaign funds found no witness on hand and adjourned until tomorrow when former Senator Albert J. MRS. HENRI CARPENTIER

Observed by Mr. and Mrs. Henri Carpentier Who Were Congratulated by Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Henri Carpentier of 27 Ellis court today observed their silver wedding anniversary, the affair, however, being only in the line of a family gathering. The happy couple were the recipients of many silver gifts and were showered with congratulations by their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpentier are well known in this city, having resided in Lowell nearly all their lives and at 27

Ellis court for the past seven years. Mr. Carpentier was born at St. Hyacinthe, Que., on July 13, 1865, and while very young came to this city with his family, and has remained here ever since. Twenty-seven years ago he secured employment at Littlefield's paper box shop, and through his steady and efficient work he became head shipping clerk, a position he is still holding. The shop is now known as their deposition under oath for fear they might pass away before the time of the trial. Lawyers Isaac S. Morse and William A. Richardson, who were preparing the case, accompanied by another justice of the peace, called on the witnesses and took their depositions relative to the matter. Mr. Richardson at that time lived in Central street, while Mr. Blood occupied the house now situated next to the Pawtucket Congregational church in Riverside street, and up to a short time ago occupied by L. P. Turcotte.

The deposition of Mr. Ephraim Richardson follows:

I Ephraim Richardson of Lowell in the Richardsons county of Middlesex and commonwealth of Massachusetts on oath depose and say:

I am seventy-five years old and in my seventy-sixth year and reside in that part of Lowell called Centralville in the same place where I have resided for the last twenty-seven years. During nearly all that time my business rafting and other business on the Merrimack river all the way from far above to far below Lowell, I have acted as pilot on the said river during all that time and previous. I have been familiar with "Hunt's Falls," so-called at Lowell and below there. In running Hunt's Falls we sometimes ran straight and sometimes crooked, according to the state of the water. There is a stone at the landing at Beaver brook which has always been a guide as to whether we could cross Hunt's falls straight or not. When this stone was out of water about six inches to a mark in the said stone, very small logs might pass straight, but not large ones. Large logs could only go straight when only the whole of said stone was under water. That stone was below the water three feet last Friday when I measured it. Since the Essex company have built their dam at Lawrence on the Merrimack river there is more water on Hunt's falls than there was before. We can now run the same size timber where said stone is six inches out of water that we could only run previously when said stone was all under water. I have done it several times. I remember the great freshet of the Merrimack river some years previous to 1806, which was at ways said to have been the greatest freshet ever known on the river. My impression is that of the land lying between what is now Dr. Royal Call's land and said river not more than one acre or one and a half acres was out of water, the remainder being covered by the freshet.

(Signed) Ephraim Richardson.

Mr. Blood's deposition was as follows:

"I Coburn Blood of Dracut, in the county of Middlesex and commonwealth of Massachusetts, on oath depose and say: I shall be 93 years old on the fifteenth day of September next, if I live so long, and have lived in Dracut where I now live ever since I was born. I remember the great freshet on the Merrimack river in 1785. The water at that time rose up to my house not quite to the sills of my house, however, being the same house I now occupy. The freshet of this spring, 1852, was higher and the water rose up on the sills of my house to within an inch of the top. I calculated the difference was about six inches between the old freshet and the last one at my house. At the time of the old freshet there was no bridge and no dam at Pawtucket falls. There was a sawmill at Pawtucket falls from the Great rock to the Chelmsford side of the river and this partial dam and mill was swept away by the old freshet. There were no falls from between that part of the river opposite my house and where the dam now is at Pawtucket falls.

Signed: Coburn Blood.

CLUNG TO A LEVEL WITH CLOSING PRICES YESTERDAY

The Market Was Firm At the Close—Stocks Not Much Affected By Late Rise In Call Money To Six Per Cent—Other Features of the Trading

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The movement of prices at the opening of today's stock market reflected further irregularity. Hill issues and Can. Pac. were down from a fraction to a full point, while Amal, Smelting, Steel and a few other active issues recorded slight gains. Trading was moderate. The tone of the market in the first hour suggested further uncertainty with increasing bearish sentiment. Republic Iron and Bethlehem Steel were among the few strong issues. Stocks moved narrowly in the early part of today's session. Trading was again very light with a preponderance of bearish sentiment among the professional element. The advance in the German discount rate, while in no sense surprising, served as another reminder of the tense foreign financial situation. Markets abroad reflected extreme caution with Americans generally lower in London. Hill issues were heaviest of the representative issues here, other speculative stocks fluctuating moderately.

Reading was the only feature of the late trading, its momentary display of firmness being the more marked in contrast to the heaviness of other active issues.

The market closed firm. The stocks were not much affected by the late rise in call money to 6 per cent. Most of the leaders clung to a level with yesterday's close.

Fire in An Attic

Fire broke out in the attic of a boarding house at 146 South street, conducted by Mrs. Mary J. Donnelly, shortly before five o'clock yesterday afternoon, but owing to early discovery and prompt response of the fire department the blaze was extinguished before much damage was done.

The fire started in an attic in a pile of rubbish around a chimney, at the head of the attic stairs. In the corners were mattresses, upholstered furniture and other inflammable material. An alarm was sent in from box 24 and when the firemen reached the scene a line from the chemical was used, but the fire has not been extinguished until after it had burned a small hole through the roof.

The house is owned by Jan Zebrin.

BUTCHERS WERE MOBBED

Wild Riot in the Berlin Markets

BERLIN, Oct. 24.—Hundreds of Berlin housewives joined in a wild riot yesterday because the butchers in the municipal markets refused to handle meat imported so as to reduce the cost of living.

The principal trouble occurred in the Wedding district, which is entirely inhabited by working people. Hundreds of women went to the municipal market here yesterday morning, hoping to profit by the reduced prices settled on by the municipal council. They found, however, that the butchers had agreed not to deal in meats imported by the municipality. They then stormed the butchers' stalls, seized all the native meat, trampled it on the ground and fought with the butchers who were trying to protect it from destruction.

The police were forced to close the market to put an end to the riot. The prices of meat are so high in Berlin that the government recently broke its strict embargo on imported meats and allowed the city authorities to bring in and sell meats from abroad at the city markets and to control the prices. The butchers at first agreed to handle these meats, but late Tuesday evening announced that they had decided on a general boycott of them in the 12 municipal markets of Berlin. As the market in the Wedding district is one of the most frequented the trouble between sellers and consumers first came to a head there.

The municipality declares its intention of punishing the butchers by cancelling their licenses.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE

Ass't Postmaster Placed Under Arrest

EASTPORT, Me., Oct. 21.—Charged with the alleged embezzlement of $5000 from the Eastport post office, where he has served for six years or more as assistant postmaster, Ernest A. Farris was arrested today by federal officials.

The arrest was made on a warrant brought from Portland just before noon by Deputy United States Marshal Ferdinand E. Stevens at the instance of Postoffice Inspectors A. H. Pierce and C. C. Hart, who had been investigating the affairs of the local office. It was claimed that in addition to the money alleged to have been taken, many letters have been misused from the office. Farris is about 30 years of age and has a wife and four children. Arrangements were made to take him to Bangor this afternoon for arraignment before a commissioner.

O'SULLIVAN CAMPAIGN TOUR

whom he referred to as a man of big affairs, strong, able and progressive. The governor was to have joined Mr. O'Sullivan in Lowell yesterday morning but business kept him at the state house until noon.

Archie Roosevelt Leads Moose Yell

Speechmaking in the rain was not the most desirable thing in the world, but it didn't seem to interfere with the success of the O'Sullivan tour yesterday. Speeches were made in the rain by all right and the people, men, women and children, stood in the rain and listened to them. It was the kind of enthusiasm that the weather clerk could not dampen, and it repaid for the college town of Andover to offer the a sweeping victory for the republicans. "John seems strangely optimistic," said Mr. O'Sullivan.

Hon. Charles S. Hamlin

Hon. Charles S. Hamlin urged very eloquently the election of Mr. O'Sullivan to congress. Mr. Hamlin is one of the very best speakers on the platform in Massachusetts today, and he is a very able man, politically and otherwise. He was right at home yesterday for he was born in Westford and used to visit his grandparents in Groton and Ayer. Mr. Hamlin is very much interested in agricultural pursuits and speaking in Groton he said he made his first financial transaction in that town. His grandfather gave him a certain amount to drive the cows back and forth to pasture. He wasn't very fussy about driving the cows and he suited the job to another boy. He only interruption. The Bull Moose yell was raised by the students in the town square while Hon. David I. Walsh was talking, and the belligerents were led by Archie Roosevelt, son of the original Bull Moose, Col. Theodore Roosevelt. It was in bad taste, to say the least, and had Col. Roosevelt been there he undoubtedly would have frowned upon it. But Archie Roosevelt and his college comrades at Andover are young, and they may live to acquire better manners. The man whom they interrupted, Hon. David I. Walsh, gave them some good advice. He told them they should appreciate the fact that they were fortunate enough to be in college, but that they ought not to be selfish. "I admire the spirit of youth," he said, "and personally I care little for the interruption. I am a college man and I know what college life means. I do not want to offend you in any way, but I would ask you not to be selfish. You ought to have regard for the rights and privileges of others, for men like that man over there with a child in his arms are really interested. I have a message for such men and one they want to hear. I want to tell them something that I think will be of assistance to let the job for ten cents less than his grandmother had given him and he made ten cents without doing any work. That, he said, was his first financial transaction and the little story amused his listeners.

"I have been campaigning for years," said Mr. Hamlin, "and I think I have never spoken in the interest of any man better equipped for the office he sought than is Mr. O'Sullivan for congress. He is a true blue American, a representative citizen and a man of large affairs. He has carved out his own fortune by hard work, sagacity and intelligence and the vim, the energy and the determination such as he exercised in the carrying out of that program is the energy and determination that have made this country what it is today. This is a very peculiar political campaign. Usually there is a big fight on, but in this campaign, because of dissection in the republican party, we simply stand back and witness the struggle of the two factions. We stand in the position of first aid to the injured."

Reduction of Tariff

Hon. David I. Walsh said some very nice things about Mr. O'Sullivan and said it would be a fine thing for the district to elect Mr. O'Sullivan to congress. He told of Mr. O'Sullivan's success as a business man and of his honesty of purpose. "No man is fit to serve his fellow man," said Mr. Walsh, "unless he is capable of studying their problems. Mr. O'Sullivan is a man of wealth, a successful manufacturer and he speaks from the ranks of the laboring man. He is a man of broad human sympathies and he can go in among the people and solve their problems."

Mr. O'Sullivan

Mr. O'Sullivan declared in his speech that he believed in a reduction of the tariff, but was not a free trader. He said that political campaigning was new business for him, but it was generally conceded that he took very kindly to it. He said that he got into the light to do what he could to assist the party. He was very optimistic as to his election and said there was no doubt about it. "When elected," he said, "I will go into every town and consult with the interests there. It will be my great aim to get in close touch with the needs and requirements of the district, the towns as well as the cities and then I will proceed to do what I can to relieve conditions. I have reason to believe that I can be of service to the people of this district and it will be my delight to assist them. I have arrived at that time of life and I am so situated that I feel like doing things for as many people as I can. I am not in this fight for the money that goes with the office. I could earn more money at home, but I want to help you and yours and I think I know how to do it. I am equally interested in agriculture and manufacturing and I am in favor of a tariff that will not hamstring the working man. I want to see the tariff reduced in such a way as to take the burden from the shoulders of the poor man. My sympathy goes out to the laboring man and I want to see the prices reduced on the things that go up to the woods, of living, going up and up, soaring to the sky, as it were. The cost of living has advanced 50 per cent, but the man who labors is not getting much more for his labor than he got ten years ago. He is hardly as well off as he was ten years ago and yet the republicans who are responsible for the condition of affairs have the temerity to ask you for your votes. The time has come for some radical change and you can bring that about if you will vote the straight democratic ticket from top to bottom."

Rally Monday Night

There will be another big O'Sullivan rally in Associate hall next Monday night. The speakers will include Judge Alton B. Parker and David I. Walsh.

Osmond Spoke

Mr. William N. Osmond, candidate for congress from the fifth district on the progressive ticket, addressed a good sized gathering at the corner of Merrimack and John streets this noon, dwelling particularly on the importance of the new party in the country's them, but you seem determined that they shall not hear the message. That man with a child in his arms has not had the educational advantages that you are enjoying, and that brings to mind another point that I would impress upon you. When you have finished your education you should think of those not as fortunate as yourselves. You ought not to look upon your education as a stepping-stone to wealth, but rather as an instrument with which to assist your fellowman. I go back again to the man with the child in his arms and I want you to get interested in him and other men in his station of life. You are all clean, bright looking young men, full of youth's cheer and college glow, and I am sure that when you stop to think of it you will permit me to deliver my message to the man with the child in his arms." The college boys allowed Mr. Walsh to deliver the message and the Bull Moose yell was not again heard in the town while the party remained.

The Whirlwind Tour

The first stop after leaving O'Sullivan headquarters yesterday morning was at Pepperell. The next was Groton and then came Ayer, Hudson, Maynard, Concord Junction, Andover, Bedford, Woburn, Reading and Andover. In the crowd at Andover the Hon. John N. Cole was recognized. He was asked if he was supporting any part of the democratic or bull-moose ticket and he replied that he expected to see

Than you can get anywhere in New England? We have always made $15.00 our strong price on Suits and Overcoats. Manufacturers know that we sell more suits and overcoats at this price than any two stores in Lowell. What is the consequence—We have several makers always trying to get our business on suits and overcoats at this price—They are trying to undersell each other and the outcome is that they quote prices so low that when we are ready to place our orders there is nothing in it for the manufacturer. Now this competition among the makers is nothing more than a benefit to you. We get suits and overcoats to sell for $15.00 that other stores have to get $20 for. We could fill a whole paper about our suits and overcoats at $15—their value—the patterns—the styles—the make, etc., but we know that you don't care to spend an hour reading an advertisement when you can come to this great clothing store and, if you are any judge of clothing, tell in a minute that we are selling suits and overcoats for $15.00 that you see in other stores at $20. If you lack confidence in your judgment of value come just the same, our salesmen will promptly prove to you that what we say is absolutely true—and you take no chances because every garment we sell from a collar button to a fur lined overcoat is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or we will replace it with a new garment—Can we do more to serve you?

THE OPEN AIR SCHOOL

Test is Being Made in Boston

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—Chairman Charles Logue of the Boston schoolhouse commission is greatly in favor of the "open air" schoolroom, which is now being tested in Boston and other New England cities, and believes that at least two of these "open-air" classrooms should be installed in every school building.

Chairman Logue was greatly impressed with the recent experiments in Brookline, which show that abundance of fresh air has marked effect on the health and growth of children. The Brookline report made by Chief Medical Inspector H. Lincoln Chase, M. D., shows that the average gain of children of the second grade in the "open-air" room was 3.18 pounds during the school year, as compared with 2.69 pounds in the closed room and 1.68 inches in height as compared with .95 inches.

Chairman Logue disagrees with Dr. Chase of Brookline in the latter's opinion that all school rooms should be of the "open-air" type. "I do not believe that all children need to have the 'open-air' room," said Chairman Logue, "although I am in favor of plenty of fresh air. We are experimenting with a humidifying system of ventilation and heating in the Oliver Wendell Holmes school, Dorchester, which I believe will give us just about the right temperature and plenty of air. I do not think that the temperature should go higher than 65 degrees in the classroom.

"The experiments in Boston with the 'open-air' room have been most successful, to my mind. The anaemic, debilitated and other delicate children are easily picked out by the school physicians and nurses, and they have enjoyed far better health while in the 'open-air' room."

"The school committee this last year has provided 600 blankets in these new rooms, and the course of study and other requirements may be modified by the assistant superintendent after consultation with the director of school hygiene, Dr. Harrington.

"In all the newer schools we have installed 'open-air' rooms. These rooms have special windows which can be so adjusted that the room is open fully in at least one side to the outer air, and are kept at a temperature of about 50 to 54 degrees."

"The Benefactor, Fenwick, John Winthrop, Lafayette and George T. Angell schools, Roxbury and the U. S. Grant school, East Boston, are the more recent schools in which 'open-air' rooms have been installed."

Blaze in Store of P. Dempsey & Co.

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—Fire that originated on the sixth floor of the building at the corner of Merrimack and Lancaster streets yesterday noon, in the establishment of P. Dempsey & Co., wholesale liquor dealers, had gained great headway before it was discovered by employees and did a total damage estimated at upwards of $10,000. On the sixth floor some of the highest test liquors were stored and the flames gave the firemen a hard battle.

SIXTEEN PERSONS WERE RESCUED

Jersey City Life Savers Obligated to Fight Long Battle With Storm to Save Crew

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 24.—Sixteen men, composing the entire crew of the Italian bark Catherina, were taken off that vessel by federal life savers late yesterday, after a hard battle against a stiff gale, rain and terrific seas. The bark was driven on the Barnegat shoals during the southeast storm which raged along the Jersey coast last night and yesterday.

The light of the bark was discovered early in the day, when the lookout at the Forked River station sighted the distress rockets streaking through the gloom. Preparations were immediately made by the crew to go to the relief of the vessel, and at the same time word was dispatched to the Barnegat crew, from which point the alarm was relayed by telephone to two other life-saving crews.

Four crews left their stations in the non-sinkable lifeboats and began a battle against wind and waves. They found the bark bare and fast upon the shoals two miles off Barnegat inlet. She was pounding hard and the mountains of green seas were smashing her from stem to stern.

The rain was falling in torrents. It was impossible for the life-savers to get near, but they got close enough to enable them to see some of the crew of the vessel lashed to the rigging.

Some of the crew were at work on the pumps. They had alternated at the pumps after the engines had broken down, and after the vessel had been driven out of her course and upon the bars.

The life savers attempted repeatedly to reach the imperiled crew. They took long chances of having their boats dashed to pieces against the sides of the bark, but each time, by skilful handling, they managed to escape annihilation. They battled from early morning until noon without avail. Then the rain ceased, but the wind held strong. It was only the patent air chambers that prevented the life boats from filling and sinking.

It looked as if the bark would go to pieces under the heavy pounding. About 4.30 the life savers managed to get a line to the crew of the vessel. It was made fast and then the lifeboats, tied to each other, pulled the line taut and down this the crew of the bark slid, one by one, until they were all finally safe in the lifeboats.

The captain was the last to leave the bark. The line was cut and the boats pulled to the Forked River life station, where the exhausted crew of the bark were given food and dry clothing and the first chance to rest for more than 20 hours.

The Catherina seems to be doomed. Her seams were opened by the incessant pounding of the heavy billows, and it is believed she will go to pieces during the night. The vessel was bound from Montevideo to New York.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Aime Gaudette and Miss Julia Higgins were married yesterday afternoon at St. Patrick's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. John J. McHugh. The couple were attended by Mr. Thomas Teague, who acted as best man and Miss Katherine Higgins, who served as bridesmaid. The bride wore a white harbor dress and carried a bouquet of pinks. The bridesmaid was attired in a pink silk dress and carried roses. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Higgins, 33 Salem street, where a dinner was served followed by a reception in the evening. The happy couple left on the 9.25 o'clock train

SHAY-LASELLE

Mr. Daniel F. Shay and Miss Harriet May Laselle were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Laselle, 23 Emory street, last evening by Rev. N. W. Matthews, pastor of the Gorham Street Methodist church. Mr. Andrew Jenkins was best man and the bridesmaid was Miss Eva C. Jenkins. Miss Margaret I. Bainbridge was maid of honor. The ushers were: Mr. Ralph Jenkins, Mr. Frank Luce, Miss Gertrude McKissack and Miss Mildred Dubois. Mr. and Mrs. Shay received many handsome gifts. Friends were present from Cambridge, Fall River and Lawrence. Mr. and Mrs. Shay, after a wedding trip, will reside in this city.

FARMER-HALE

Mr. Will S. Farmer, a well known employee of the Lanson Co. on Walker street, and Mrs. Ella L. Hale of the J. C. Ayer laboratory, were united in marriage Tuesday night by Rev. P. Victor Bigelow at the parsonage, 43 Columbus avenue. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Oscar F. Paine as best man and matron of honor and the ring bearer was Miss Bessie Hale, daughter of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Farmer will reside at 105 Warwick street.

TWO SALOONS CLOSED Because of Alleged Violation of Law

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—The licensing board yesterday severely punished three concerns, after finding two guilty of selling liquor to minors and the third of conducting a disorderly resort. Boys were discovered in an intoxicated condition by the police, who filed charges with the licensing board against the licensees.

Salomon and Effie W. Bacharach, who conduct a saloon at 8 Hayward place, were complained of by Police Commissioner O'Meara. One night recently the police of the Court square station found three boys under the influence of liquor in Williams court. When questioned, they said that they secured the liquor at Bacharach's.

Since Oct. 1 when persons arrested for intoxication were being booked, Commissioner O'Meara has directed the men in charge of the desk at police stations to question them regarding where they secured the drink. Reports were made to headquarters daily.

When the boys made their declaration Capt. James P. Sullivan immediately reported to Commissioner O'Meara. The Bacharachs were given a hearing before the licensing board.

The licensing board voted to suspend the license held by the Bacharachs from 11 o'clock Saturday night, Oct. 26, until 6 o'clock Monday, Dec. 3.

William F. and Richard H. Joyce, proprietors of Higgins' hotel, holders of an innkeepers' license at 123 Court street, were charged with the sale and delivery of liquor to a minor. They were found guilty and last night at 11 o'clock they closed their place with orders not to open it again until Saturday morning at 6 o'clock. Capt. Irving A. H. Penhody of the West End police station made the complaint against them.

Joseph and Rose White, who hold a license at 11 Kneeland street, as Joseph White & Co., were complained of for permitting disorder in their establishment. After they had been found guilty, they were reprimanded and informed that the women's privilege they possessed had been suspended.

RUSSIAN CROWN PRINCE Miss Ethel Smith is Living as Result of Sacrifice of "Newsboy"

Is Suffering From an Accident

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 24.—The Grand Duke Alexis, the Russian crown prince, is seriously ill at the imperial hunting lodge of Spala, in Russian Poland, following an accident on Oct. 15, when he sustained an injury in the right groin. There is great popular anxiety over the illness of the heir to

THE CZAREVITCH OF RUSSIA

ETHEL SMITH

GARY, Ind., Oct. 24.—Residents of this town will erect a monument to William Rugh, a "newsboy" who was a grown man and a hero though crippled. Ethel Smith, a girl he had never seen, was so badly burned in an explosion of a motorcycle that she was in danger of losing one leg and possibly her life. Rugh had one leg that was paralyzed and useless. He offered to have it amputated that the skin might be used for grafting to cover the flesh of Ethel Smith's burned member. The operation was performed, and Miss Smith was soon able to leave the hospital, though she is not yet entirely well. Complications set in after Rugh's leg was amputated, and he was told by the doctors that he could not recover. "All right," he said, "I was no good to the world after all." These words will be engraved on the monument that Gary will erect to his memory.

COAL! COAL! COAL!

I have just received from the mines a new shipment of No. 2 Nut Coal. The quality is far above the average; it will give absolute satisfaction in the kitchen range or sitting-room stove. I have sold a great many thousand tons of this coal, and the same people come back year after year and prefer it to any coal on the market. Their approval is the best argument I can advance in its favor.

PRICE $8.00 PER TON while it lasts

You can have immediate delivery on this particular coal. Mail and telephone orders will receive immediate attention.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY

Is Designated by Governor Foss

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—Saturday, Nov. 9, the 40th anniversary of the great Boston fire of 1872, has been designated as Fire Prevention day by Gov. Foss in a proclamation issued yesterday. His purpose is that by directing public attention to fire dangers and the need of fire prevention, the losses may be diminished.

The proclamation follows:—
To the end that we may lessen the serious destruction of property, and the risk and loss of many lives, now caused by preventable fires, I hereby designate and set apart Saturday, Nov. 9, as Fire Prevention day, that being the 40th anniversary of the great Boston fire which in 1872 destroyed a large part of Boston and involved a loss of $50,000,000.

I urge that on Fire Prevention day

all property owners give particular heed to the inspection of their buildings and grounds. Defective chimneys and flues should be remedied; inflammable rubbish should be disposed of and all needless fire risks removed. School authorities should redouble their efforts against the dangers of fire. Owners of stores, factories and mills should cause a special examination to be made of their premises.

The newspapers throughout the state can render on that day effective public service by calling the attention of their readers emphatically to the duty of protecting life and property.

The annual property loss by fire in the United States is estimated to be over $200,000,000, and over $5,500,000 in this commonwealth.

"Our fire losses per capita are stated to be eight times as great as the average in European countries, and 14 times as great as the per capita fire loss in Germany. Moreover our annual per capita loss is increasing in a very rapid rate."

"During the past few days serious loss has been occasioned by many forest fires due in large part to defective spark arresters and faulty fire box construction on locomotives. More effective legislation is needed to control these risks."

"I hope that, public attention being directed to this subject, our heavy annual fire losses may be diminished. In testimony whereof I have hereto subscribed my name at the capitol in the city of Boston, this 23d day of October, A. D. 1912.

"Eugene N. Foss."

Chelmsford Centre

The class of 1914 of the Chelmsford High school is to hold a social and dance in the town hall tomorrow evening. Hubbard's orchestra is to furnish the music and a large crowd is expected to attend.

The Chelmsford grange is to be entertained by the grange at Hudson, N. H., this evening. The members of the Chelmsford organization have hired a special car for the occasion.

All of the schools are to close tomorrow in order that the teachers may attend the Middlesex county convention which is to be held in Boston tomorrow. Most all of the teachers will be present at the convention.

There is some talk of a large broom factory locating in the Robbins Hill district. If the factory decides to locate it will start building immediately. Nothing definite has been done as yet. The company has its principal factories in New York state and makes a specialty of hair brushes, brooms, etc. The plan is to make this a distributing centre for New England.

MAN GIVEN SEPARATION PETROPOULOS IS CAUGHT

Will Marry Wife No. 2 Found in an Attic in Chicopee Yesterday

HAVERHILL, Oct. 24.—Judge Hall yesterday issued a special decree granting Joseph Z. Gouline of this city a decree nisi from one wife and annulling his marriage to a second wife. The case was one of the most peculiar that has ever been tried in the superior court.

Gouline married Miss Evelyn Holland in Boston in 1897 and they separated in 1903. In 1907, as he had heard that his first wife had married again, Gouline concluded that she had secured a divorce and in 1909 he met Miss May L. Knowlton in Buffalo, where he was employed, and they were married.

Last year after he had returned east with his second wife, Gouline heard from his first wife, who declared that she was still married to him. After consulting a lawyer to straighten out the marital tangle Gouline and his second wife parted, but continued good friends.

Gouline asked for a divorce from his first wife on the ground of desertion, and also sought annulment of the second marriage. When the case was heard at Salem a legal point was raised as to whether Gouline could secure a divorce, as he had violated the law by marrying another. The legality of any divorce proceedings until after the first marriage was annulled was also questioned.

Mr. Gouline said last night that he would marry again, his prospective bride being the Buffalo woman whose marriage to him was annulled.

CHICOPEE, Oct. 24.—John Petropoulos, aged 20, who shot and instantly killed his sister, Theodoros, aged 18, Monday evening, it is alleged, as a result of a quarrel over love affairs, was arrested by the local police at 7 o'clock last night. Petropoulos was found at the home of his brother-in-law, Anastas Andriopoulos, whom, it is said, took the revolver away from him Monday night. Petropoulos offered no resistance and his first question after being arrested was about his dead sister.

The police received information shortly before 7 o'clock that Petropoulos was at his brother-in-law's house, and Inspector A. T. Caron, accompanied by Patrolmen Edward Connor, Philip Gelina and Richard Healy, went to the home. A thorough search of various rooms did not reveal the man wanted, but just before leaving Inspector Caron thought of the attic.

Inspector Caron lifted Officer Connor up upon a trap door and the officer scanned the room carefully. It was several minutes before he saw Petropoulos crouching in a corner. The officer drew his revolver, but the man made no resistance and was soon passed down to Inspector Caron, who placed the handcuffs on him.

Mrs. Petropoulos, who was in the house with her four-months-old baby, cried pitifully when her husband was taken before her to a paring, and the officers took the prisoner away quickly rather than prolong her grief. Since the tragedy she has been stopping at the Andriopoulos home.

Petropoulos is said to have admitted the shooting. It is alleged he said he shot his sister because he didn't like the fellow she went with and she wouldn't give him up.

He said he had decided to surrender himself today.

His relatives told the police after his discovery that they did not know he was hiding in the house.

RAIN AIDS THE FIREMEN

Forest Fires Around Brockton Put Out

BROCKTON, Oct. 24.—The heavy dew of Tuesday night, followed yesterday by a light rain in the morning and a drizzle yesterday afternoon which turned into a heavy rain last night, has put an end to the forest and brush fires which have menaced the city for the past few days. Last night for the first time in a week, firemen were able to leave the stations and go to their homes for supper.

Yesterday there were three brush fires, the hardest one being on Alger street, where the fire spread across the East Bridgewater line and was fought on either side by the East Bridgewater and Brockton firemen. After two hours of hard work the flames were finally under control.

A train passing through Campello yesterday afternoon left a trail of sparks in a field adjoining the lumber yards of the George E. Keith company, and in a few minutes there was a brisk fire in progress.

At one time it was so severe that help was asked from the Keith shoe factories, and scores of men with brooms and shovels responded, while water secured from a nearby brook was of great assistance.

WOMAN WAS MURDERED

Because She Spurned Love of Man

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 24.—After being questioned by detectives and state police for several hours last night, Joseph Buonomo of Chicago admitted that the reason he killed his common law wife, Jennie Cavaglieri, Tuesday night near Stratford was because she had refused to go back to Chicago and live with him.

Until last night he had steadfastly maintained that he did not know what he was doing, being drunk, when he, with four other men, took her in an automobile to a cemetery near Putney Tuesday night and shot her to death.

Buonomo said he had lived with the woman in Chicago for four months, and that this week she was found to be missing. He went to New York, and being unable to find her there, came to Bridgeport to see his friend, Frank Pizzichillo, thinking he might have seen her.

Pizzichillo remembered seeing her in Bridgeport, and told Buonomo he could locate her. Arrangements were accordingly made and the automobile ride, with its fatal ending, resulted.

Buonomo denied the shooting was in any way prompted by revelations the dead woman is said to have made concerning the white slave traffic in Chicago. He said the only reason he shot her was that she would not live with him.

"CASCARETS" FOR SICK HEADACHE

It's your inactive liver and bowels

You're bilious, you have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes; your lips are parched. No wonder you feel ugly, mean and ill-tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleansing billious medicine to your liver and bowels. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver and intestines can be quickly cured by morning with gentle, thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets, because they taste good and never sicken or sicken.

ATTORNEY SCHARTON

Says Russell's Lawyers Ramble

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—In stating his objection to the line of cross-examination of Dakota Dan by Attorney Nason, representing the Russell estate, in the Russell identity case, yesterday, Attorney Scharton, representing the claimant, asserted that the opposing counsel was unreasonably long and rambling in his questioning of the witness.

This objection and its accompanying remark followed minute questioning by Attorney Nason as to the location of Molra. He asked the Dakota ranchman if he were sure it was in Wisconsin, or if it was in some other state. Attorney Scharton at once jumped to his feet and wanted to know what connection that question could possibly have to do with the identity of the claimant.

"I do not assume that Mr. Nason is stating time on irrelevant matters," stated the court. "If I thought he was I would cut him short."

Photographs of the handwriting, "from your mother," written on a sheet of paper, enclosed with what purported to be a lock of his mother's hair which he received by mail while in the west, and of the same words written at the last trial by Mrs. Ruseau, who testified that Dakota Dan was her son "Jim," was shown to the witness again, showing the contention of the estate that the claimant is "Jim" Ruseau, a French Canadian.

Dakota Dan finally stated that he did remember of Mrs. Ruseau writing the specimen at the former trial. Dakota Dan claims that this lock of hair is a lock sent by Mrs. Daniel Russell of Melrose, who he claims was his mother.

Dakota Dan declared that the reason he testified at the previous trial that he had not worked anywhere after he left school except for the Common Sense Fertilizer company was because his former counsel instructed him, because he wanted him to spring the injured leg he received while working in the tea store upon his brother William before he mentioned it in court.

DREYFUSS TO STAND PAT

Pittsburgh Owner Satisfied With His Lineup

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24.—While there are rumors of changes in the New York club and while President Murphy of the Cubs is vowing to "can" a score or more of his veterans, the Pittsburgh club is laying back taking things easy, content with what it has to go on when another season opens up. President Dreyfuss and Secretary Locke are certain the present make-up is good enough to bank on; and the chances are that no more than one new man will be signed between now and reporting time next March.

No more pitchers will be sought after. The present hurling corps is the best in the business, and no experimenting will be indulged in. The catching department is one of the best and the infield is held to be O. K. It may be that an effort will be made to secure a good man for center field; but even this is not certain. Manager Clarke will decide during the winter whether Hendrix will be shunted to the outer garden or not. Should Fred decide on this move, every hole in the team will have been plugged, it being taken for granted that Euter is going to remain at second base and Miller at first.

The Pirate barnstormers each received a little less than $300 for their labors during the post-season games. This is over $200 per man more than the Phillies and Athletics received for the games played in Philadelphia. Everywhere the Pirates went they were well received and royalty treated.

IMPORTANT CHANGES

Are Expected in New England League

Before the start of the New England league season of 1913 important changes will be made in the league. Changes are expected in five clubs, or franchise elsewhere. Haverhill, Lynn, Haverhill, Fall River, New Bedford and Brockton will have new managers. New managements are also expected in some of these cities. Of the five cities, Fall River is the only one that gives any inkling that it may transfer its franchise elsewhere. Haverhill, Lynn, Brockton and New Bedford will stick in Lynn, Frank J. Leonard is through and he will have no official connection with the team in 1913, according to the present dope, says the Lawrence Eagle-Tribune. If the present association continues in control a manager will be secured in Haverhill, new owners may assume control, although there is nothing authentic in any of the stories that have been published that the team is on the market. Eddie McLaure will not be back in Brockton as manager, and Frank Connaughton will be succeeded by some other manager in New Bedford.

TO TALK IT OVER

Joe Tinker Calls on Pres. Herrmann Relative to His New Job With the Reds

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Joe Tinker, who has been mentioned as the probable manager of the Cincinnati Reds, left yesterday for Cincinnati to confer with President Herrmann relative to closing negotiations for the position. Since President Murphy has stated that he would not stand in the way of Tinker in the event of that player being offered a manager's berth, it looks as if the conference with Herrmann would bind up Tinker as leader of the Reds.

FRANK CHANCE

May Succeed Roger Bresnahan as Leader of the St. Louis Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 24.—There is a strong rumor here that Frank Chance, the deposed manager of the Chicago Cubs, will succeed Roger Bresnahan, who was also ousted by the Cardinal directors. Miller Huggins has been prominently mentioned for the local berth, but those on the inside claim that Chance is more strongly favored.

STEVE YERKES

To Be Tendered Banquet by Home Folks—Connie Mack Will Attend—Committee Notified

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—The baseball fans of Jenkintown and Hatboro will give Steve Yerkes, the star second baseman of the world's champion Red Sox, a banquet at Moore's Inn, Hatboro, tomorrow evening. Yerkes was born in Hatboro and began his baseball career with the Jenkintown team.

Connie Mack, noted manager of the Athletics, has notified the committee in charge that he will attend the banquet, and says further that he will bring several of his team with him.

THE BASEBALL PLAYERS

Want Representation on National Commission

Success for the newly organized Players' Baseball association depends upon the policy adopted by the magnates, and, in turn, the policy adopted by the Players' Baseball association depends largely upon the men the players see fit to place at the head of the organization. If the right kind of men are placed in charge of the association it will surely be an aid to making the game cleaner and more enjoyable, while if the wrong kind are allowed to rule the organization will be in continued trouble with not only the magnates and managers, but will get itself in bad with the fans. And, after all, this latter is the important point. The club owners may not like the ball players' union and try to strangle it, but as long as it has the good will and backing of the public the organization will continue to flourish—that is, of course, if the players do not ruin it themselves.

There are grievances the ball players have against the clubs which the new association has a right to ask to be corrected, but there are also grievances against ball players that the clubs are justified in demanding be rectified. The present playing contract is inequitable for the player, and it can be modified without too much interfering with the hold clubs must have on their men, and the association is justified in demanding that such modifications be made. On the other hand, there is a class of players who demand everything and give as little as possible in return. In fact, they demand that clubs pay them high salaries when they are in such physical condition through their own fault as to be unable to do their work. If they are suspended or otherwise punished, they malign and cause trouble in the club. It is up to the new association to see that the clubs are protected in such cases. It is also up to the new association to see that not only the clubs live up to their contracts, but that the players do likewise.

According to the reports given out as to the plans of the association, the organization intends to suppress rowdy conduct on the playing field, and this is well and good if by this is meant the suppression of offenses by the players as well as others. Unfortunately the preliminary sketch of the plan for the organization goes on to mention that "ball players are temperamental under the stress of playing." If this means that the association is going to defend the player who uses vile and indecent language on the field to officials and with-in hearing of and to persons in the stands and give an excuse for the player should be given latitude in such matters it will find hostility, especially among the better class of fans. The habit of using profane and indecent language by players as soon as they get beyond earshot of the umpire, but within hearing of the stands is all too frequent. There is also too much talking back to spectators when a player happens to be in a bad humor and thinks he can get away with it. On the reverse side of the case, the association has every right to demand that the ball clubs protect them from abuse at the hands of the spectators; also from the umpires, some of the latter getting away with not a little abuse toward ball players.

Another thing the players have a right to ask is that they be given representation on the national commission. In fact, the latter organization should be made up of two instead of three members. This would give both the players and minor leagues representation and make the body truly representative. Even under such an arrangement the major leagues would still have a majority on the board, as they should have. The commission is at present made up of the presidents of the two big leagues and a chairman, at this time Garry Herrmann, a major league magnate. The chairman should continue to be a major league man, and this would make the vote three to two in favor of the big leagues, but it would insure a more comprehensive and fairer consideration of the many matters that come before the commission for discussion.

One final danger the players' association has to face is what wrecked the previous one. This organization did not die because of opposition by the big league, but because of internal dissension. The players themselves fought over the objects of the association and how they were to be obtained right at the start. This resulted in a clique getting control. The latter used the body for its own benefit, and some of its members tried to use the organization as a club to obtain personal benefits. One of the members finally gambled away a good part of the money in the treasury, and the remainder was never satisfactorily accounted for. Toward the close members of the association on the inside were charging each other with using the "double cross." So the members of the present organization cannot be too careful in choosing broad minded men of known integrity as leaders.

Four Members of the Harvard Team Who Are Expected to Make Football History This Season

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 24.—Head

Coach Percy Haughton predicts that Harvard will carry off the eastern football honors this season. He declares that this year's Crimson eleven is one of the best that ever represented Harvard on the gridiron. Crimison's next big game is with Brown Oct. 26. The Providence men will give a true line on the strength of the Harvard team. Brown has a heavier team than any of the others which Harvard has been up against this season. Brown ran up a score of 30 to 7 against Pennsylvania recently, which shows that it may be expected to keep Harvard from making a score nearly as high as that against Amherst. While Harvard has the politenality of one of the best teams ever sent out from Soldiers' field in its present eleven, there is not room as yet for overwhelming confidence on the part of Crimison followers in regard to the outcome of the games with Princeton and Yale. Both Yale and Princeton seem to be coming along at a good pace with plenty of excellent material. All three of the big teams which are most in the foreground have been troubled with injured men, but in most cases the injuries have been of a light character. Capt. Wendell is again ready to play. Felton has been doing some great punting in practice. Haughton has selected Gardner as Harvard's regular quarterback. Parmenter has played a fine game at center in several games.

Carpentier Expected Here

If the plans of M. Francois Descamps, manager of Georges-Carpentier, fight idol of France, do not go away, Georges will exhibit his paces before a New York club early in November.

There is a good deal of curiosity extant on this side of the water regarding Carpentier's prowess. He is beyond doubt the most sensational figure in glove-dom produced by his country since Frenchmen took up the rugged sport of fist-fights, having fought his way to the top of the heap with but one defeat registered against him.

Carpentier is only eighteen years of age and is said to be putting on weight rapidly, so much so that in the course of a few months it is probable that he will be compelled to seek opponents in the heavy division.

EVERS TO BE CUBS' BOSS

Star Second Baseman to Succeed Chance

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—John Evers, second baseman of the Chicago National league team, will be manager of the team next season, succeeding Frank Chance. This announcement was made by a friend of the player yesterday with a positiveness that carried conviction.

Evers himself declined to be quoted on the subject, and C. W. Murphy, president of the club, maintained the attitude of non-discussion which he has kept since his recent pronouncement that Chance would not be at the helm in 1913.

It was authoritatively announced that Evers would sign his contract as manager today.

The ceremony had been planned for yesterday, but members of the team are on a "barnstorming" trip and Murphy consented to the postponement to allow Evers to keep his engagement as a player. What terms the contract will carry could not be learned.

Evers' home is in Troy, N. Y. He came to the local National league team in 1902 and after a brief career as utility player, was made regular second baseman.

Chance, whom he is to succeed as manager, has been playing here since 1888. He signed as a catcher under A. C. Anson, became first baseman on the latter's retirement, and manager of the team in 1905, when the late Frank Seice gave up the post because of ill health.

THE BOXING COMMISSION

Wants to Fix a Standard of Weights

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—For the first time in the history of boxing in the United States an official attempt will be made by the New York state athletic commission to fix an international standard of weights to govern championship bouts in the various classes. The commission hopes to get its schedule recognized by the authorities governing the sport in England, France and Australia. The following weight scale drawn up by the New York commission is now on its way to the governing bodies in the three countries named and is expected to receive their approval.

Featherweight 135 pounds; bantamweight 115 pounds; featherweight 135 pounds; lightweight 135 pounds; welterweight 145 pounds; middleweight 158 pounds; light heavyweight or "commission weight" 175 pounds; light heavyweight or "commission weight" 175 pounds; heavyweight 175 pounds and over.

The commission in fixing the scale also stipulated that the various weight limits should be made at the ringside. Ringside weighing has many opponents in this country and it is believed that a modification of this rule will be agreed upon later by the international bodies concerned.

The commission's schedule calls for a new class to include boxers too heavy to make 158 pounds ringside, yet too light to compete as full fledged heavyweights. The idea is to do away with contests in which a man weighing 155 pounds meets an opponent weighing 200 pounds or more. In addition to the weights program the commission has entered into an agreement with English, French and Australian promoters by which uniform rules and penalties will be mutually recognized.

BILL PAPKE THE WINNER

Carpentier Quit in the 17th Round

PARIS, Oct. 24.—Billy Papke, the middleweight boxer of Illinois, last night defeated the French champion, Georges Carpentier, who quit after the 17th round.

At the weighing-in at 3 o'clock in the afternoon Papke exceeded the middleweight limit, while Carpentier was under weight. The Frenchman's manager immediately claimed the title of middleweight champion. He said: "The fight will proceed as arranged, but it will not be for the title, which now belongs to Carpentier."

"It was the hardest fight of my career," said Papke, after Carpentier, the idol of the French sporting public, threw up the sponge.

It was evident in the first few rounds that Carpentier was no match for Papke, whose lightning tactics completely baffled the Frenchman. But he fought with great pluck and determination. At the end of the eighth round Carpentier's right eye was closed. He fought manfully after that and kept away from the American as much as possible.

In the 15th the Frenchman came back quite strong and in both that round and the 16th gave a good account of himself. Papke opened the 17th with a terrific hook to the jaw, which practically finished the Frenchman.

Carpentier gamely got to his feet and managed to drag out the round, but obviously he was unable to continue and after a brief consultation with his seconds he gave up.

Papke received $5000 for his end of the purse, with certain other emoluments. He had to pay a forfeit of $1000 to Carpentier for overweight.

FOOTBALL BARRED

In Porto Rico Because the Game Proved to be Too Strenuous—Knives Used by Natives

American football in Porto Rico is so strenuous that during the only two games ever played on the island it was necessary to call out the army to restore peace, declares Jimmy Johnson, a former Carlisle Indian football star and at present a practicing dentist in San Juan, Porto Rico.

Johnson, who is a graduate of the school at Carlisle and of the University of Pennsylvania, arrived at Carlisle this week after completing a tour of the United States in his automobile.

As a football expert and former All American quarterback Johnson was keenly interested in the success of the game in Porto Rico. Two teams were formed, one comprising former United States soldiers, who were coached by Hooker, once famous captain of West Point, and the other team, composed of native Porto Ricans, mostly graduates of schools in this country.

The first game was a big success and was won by the natives. It was in the second contest that the trouble started. The score was in favor of the "foreigners," and the natives couldn't stand the situation.

"One of the Porto Ricans drew a knife," said Johnson, "and members of his team did likewise. Undaunted by this action, the Americans stood their ground and a terrific battle ensued. The regular army had to be called into service, and it was only after considerable clubbing that the riot was subdued. This put the damper on football on the island, and there hasn't been a game since."

CHARGE OF HOCUS POCUS MADE

Lehigh Valley Coal Deal Attacked and the Sales Company Was Condemned

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The Lehigh Valley was accused in the commerce court yesterday of trying to hocus pocus the United States government and the interstate commerce commission, so as to save itself and the other hard coal carrying roads from reducing rates from the Wyoming, Pa., fields to Perth Amboy on coal intended for transshipment to New York and New England.

The accusation was made by Blackburn Esterline, assistant to Atty. Gen. Wickersham, who moved to dismiss the Lehigh's petition for an injunction against the commission.

The move said to mislead and deceive consists of the organization of the Lehigh Valley Coal Sales company and the sale to it of the coal mined by the Lehigh Valley Coal company before it is loaded into the Lehigh Valley Railroad company's cars.

The railroad and the coal companies were parties in the complaint brought by Henry Meeker, in which he alleged that the railroad company charged excessive rates for carrying coal to Perth Amboy for shipment by water.

The commission ordered the rates reduced and awarded reparation to Meeker amounting to about $200,000. That order was made more than a year ago. The railroad company and its coal company asked for a temporary injunction, but the court denied it. Then the railroad and coal companies withdrew their suit.

Yesterday they appeared in court asking for an injunction on the ground that the Lehigh Valley Coal company is no longer a shipper over the Lehigh Valley railroad and is no longer receiving what the commission called a rebate, consisting of the price of more than $10,000,000 loaned to it by the railroad company which owned all its stock.

The petition says the coal company sells its property to the Coal Sales company "in which neither the railroad company nor the coal company has interest whatsoever." It also asserts that the coal company has paid back money it borrowed from the railroad company and cannot therefore be receiving what the commission called a rebate, on account of which the commission decided that the railroad company could afford to carry coal at a lower rate.

Esterline asserted that such a shifting of ground had never before been attempted by any litigant in any court with which he had had experience and he submitted that the railroad company and its coal company should not be permitted to defeat the order of the commission with any such subterfuge as the organization of the Lehigh Valley Coal Sales company and the claim that the Lehigh has no interest in it.

W. A. Glasgow, attorney for Meeker, argued that if the court permitted itself to be hoodwinked in such a patent manner as that the case, which has already been before the commission and the courts for five years, will drag along for at least five years more, and how many more than that he would not like to prophesy.

All the coal carrying roads are interested in the matter. If the Lehigh is able to put off the period of lower rates for itself, the rates of the other carriers will also remain up at the high level they now occupy.

FLAW IN INDICTMENT

Cotton Corner Bill in the Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Admissions of defects in the indictments of James Patten, Eugene Schales, Frank B. Hayne, and William T. Brown, on charges of conspiracy to run a $10,000,000 corner on cotton in 1910 on the New York cotton exchange, in violation of the Sherman antitrust law, were made in the supreme court of the United States yesterday by solicitor general Bullitt for the government.

The occasion was the second argument over the indictment, the court not being willing to decide last spring the correctness of the decision of the New York federal court in quashing several vital counts.

The new solicitor general had barely stated to the court that the question in the case was the decision of the lower court that the Sherman antitrust law did not prohibit the "running of a corner," before Chief Justice White suggested that he would be pleased to have the government at some time define just what it meant by a "corner."

Mr. Bullitt responded it was a combination among dealers in a commodity or of outside capitalists for the purpose of buying up the greater portion of the commodity and holding it back from sale until the demand so far outran the limited supply as to advance the price abnormally.

"Now, I want you to show how the indictment fits that definition," added the chief justice.

That led the solicitor general to announce that he abandoned the third count of the indictment, because the lower court found there was no charge in it that the defendants were to hold back the cotton from sale and consequently no corner charged.

"Getting right down to brass tacks," declared Mr. Bullitt, "I frankly admit that of the other counts the seventh has one defect. There is no express statement in it that the combination was created to withhold from the market the cotton bought."

The solicitor general said that in dealing with this defect the government advanced two arguments. One was that the lower court construed the count to charge the running of a corner and the supreme court could do nothing but accept that interpretation, notwithstanding it might have the duty to examine the interpretation if there was a conviction and an appeal.

The second argument, Mr. Bullitt said, was that the government had used the word "corner" in the count and everybody in the world knows that a corner included a withholding from sale.

Justice Van de Vanter suggested that the man who drafted the indictment did not have that in mind; perhaps, for immediately after the word "corner" he had defined the term, without including a charge of withholding from sale.

Finally Mr. Bullitt admitted that if neither one of these arguments was acceptable the government had no case. Ex-Senator John C. Spooner will be heard later in defense of the accused.

DISCUSSED CHARITIES

Massachusetts Conference at Haverhill

Haverhill, Oct. 24.—The ninth annual session of the Massachusetts conference of charities was opened last evening at city hall with 200 delegates present from all parts of the state. There was an audience of 500 people interested in local charitable organizations and the work of the state organization.

The 50 delegates who arrived yesterday afternoon were given a 30-mile auto trip through Whittierland, the 18 machines loaned by Haverhill citizens making the trip down the south side of the Merrimack and returning on the north side.

A stop was made at the Whittier home of Amesbury and later at the birthplace of the poet in the east parish. The delegates were presented with souvenir leaflets compiled by Alderman Albert L. Bartlett of this city.

A child welfare exhibit is also being held in connection with the conference, the exhibits being arranged about city hall. Among the exhibitors were various local charities.

The session last night was opened by Alderman Bartlett as the chairman of the Haverhill committee, and prayer was offered by Rev. George H. Hubbard, pastor of the Union Congregational church. The formal welcome was extended by Alderman Ralph D. Hood, supervisor of the poor department.

Dr. Walter E. Fernald, superintendent of the school for feeble minded at Waverly served as chairman of the conference on defectives. The other speakers were Dr. E. E. Southard of the state board of insanity and Dr. Geo. L. Wallace superintendent of the state school at Wrentham.

The conference will continue today and Friday. The local committee in charge consists of Alderman A. L. Bartlett, Dr. F. W. Anthony, John E. Maguire, Mrs. Walter C. Lewis, Mrs. Maguire, Mrs. Allen, Mrs. A. M. Hubbell, Mrs. Merrill, John H. Parker, Rev. Nichols Vander Pyl, Rev. Levi M. Powers, Rev. A. J. Derbyshire, Mrs. Frank S. Hamlin and Mrs. Elinor Williams.

REPORT IS CONFIRMED

More Than $1,000,000 Taken From Vaults

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—Reports current in Philadelphia for more than a year that the Union Trust company had been robbed of $1,000,000 in securities and $30,000 in cash by an employee, were confirmed yesterday, when Gov. John K. Tener decided that so far as the state is concerned, Walter H. Shourds, who is accused of appropriating the money and securities, must be prosecuted, although restitution has been made to the trust company. The company is now known as the Merchants' Union Trust company.

The securities, it is said, were taken from a safe deposit box rented by George Burnham, Jr., who is connected with a big locomotive works in this city. Shourds is a fugitive from justice but it is said that in view of restitution having been made, the trust company would not press the prosecution.

A state law, however, demands that the commonwealth prosecute all such cases and it is expected that Dist. Atty. Rolan, if Shourds is located, will bring him to trial as he has already been indicted.

Shourds, who was superintendent of safe deposit vaults of the trust company, fled the country shortly before the crime was discovered. It is reported that he opened communication for the return of the securities and the money through "personals" inserted in New York, Philadelphia and Paris newspapers.

MARCH TO STATEHOUSE

The Progressives Decide on This Program

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—The Boston city committee of the progressive party was organized last evening in Kinsley hall, Ford building, at a meeting which lacked nearly all of the characteristics of such political gatherings, and at which "practical politics" was ignored. There was plenty of spontaneity and enthusiasm and all nominations were made from the floor. Among the 200 present were several women, one of whom was elected on the committee.

First there was a dinner, with some of the prominent progressives seated at the head table. Among these was Matthew Hale, who was obliged to leave before the meeting began.

He made a brief address before going, in which he said he wanted to impress on everybody the fact that the Bull Moose party was going to take progressives from the democrats as well as from the republicans. He said that if the progressive democrats had somebody like Col. Roosevelt to lead them at Baltimore, they, too, would have holed.

After the city committee had been organized there were speeches by the nominee for lieutenant governor, Daniel Cosgrove; the candidate for senator in the first Suffolk district, Arthur M. Haddell; the candidate for congress in the 10th, Daniel T. Callahan, and Joseph Langoni of ward 6.

Great enthusiasm was aroused by a resolve which was passed, calling for "the city committee and progressives of all parties" to join in a parade from the progressive headquarters tomorrow noon and march to the headquarters of the republican and democratic state committees and then to Gov. Foss at the state house and demand that a special session of the legislature be called to vote on the question of submitting the choice of a candidate for United States senator to the people.

There was also great enthusiasm when it was announced that Bancroft Abbott had arranged a rally—largely at his own expense—in Symphony hall next Tuesday evening at which Bourke Cockran of New York was to be the principal speaker.

TELLS STORY OF CRIME

Officers Say Donahue Admitted Murder

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—For a period of about two hours last night, Cornelius Donahue, aged 29, living in the rear of 1257 Washington street, charged with the murder of his aged mother, Mrs. Ellen Donahue, was questioned in the office of Capt. John E. Driscoll at the East Dedham street station. Those present were Inspector Silas P. Watte of police headquarters, Patrolman Sullivan of the station named and a stenographer.

The prisoner did not evince the least sign of emotion in telling the story of his acts.

The woman was found dead in the rear of 1257 Washington street about 9.30 yesterday morning. A short time afterward her son Cornelius was arrested.

The prisoner, his inquisitors say, stated he was employed as a street cleaner in the West End yard, that about two weeks ago he quit work because of ill health and that during that time he had drunk heavily.

On Tuesday evening, the night previous to the murder, Donahue, according to the police, said that he went to bed about 11 o'clock under the influence of liquor.

About 7 o'clock yesterday morning Donahue, the police say, stated that he awakened and then aroused his mother, demanding that she give him his bankbook.

Mrs. Donahue refused to give the book and Donahue stated, the police say, that he slapped the woman twice on the face and then put his knees upon her chest, later grabbing her by the throat and holding her for about 15 minutes until she was black in the face, shortly after leaving the house with the bankbook.

The statement goes on to relate that Donahue went to the bank and drew $5 and went to a saloon and had a few drinks. Staggering across the street and meeting Rep. J. E. McGovern of ward 16, the accused, it is said, told the latter that he had killed his mother.

KNIGHTS OF EQUITY HELD PARTY

Pretty Event Attracted a Large Audience to Associate Hall

One of the prettiest parties of the season was held last night at Associate hall under the auspices of the Knights of Equity. The affair was one of the famous annual autumn parties of this popular organization and proved very successful despite the inclement weather.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Previous to the dancing a very enjoyable concert was rendered by Sheehan's orchestra and local talent. The concert numbers were as follows:

March, selected, Orchestra
Song, selected, Mr. John Roane.
Piano selection, Mr. John Broderick.
Song, selected, Mr. Charles Carey.
Violin solo, Mr. J. Lee.

Reading, Mr. Frank Carey.
Song, selected, Mr. Raymond Chappelle.
Song, selected, Mr. James E. Donnelly.

Each number was well received and many encores were called for. The event proved as successful as in previous years if not more so, and the committee in charge deserves credit for its good work. Dancing was started at 9 o'clock and continued till midnight, refreshments being served during intermission.

The officers were as follows:

"Pape's Diapepsin" settles sour, upset stomachs in 5 minutes

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic get this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without harm.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. Diapepsin is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your heads clear and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made by getting a large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

THE FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Of the Steam Engineers Local Was Observed

Local No. 352 of the International Union of Steam Engineers and Local No. 14 of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen, held a joint smoke talk and entertainment in the hall at 71 Central street last night, the occasion being the fifth anniversary of the organization of the local of the steam engineers. There was a large attendance despite the unfavorable weather, about 200 being present.

There were a number of state and local officers present who delivered short but interesting and instructive addresses. Three of the commissioners of the municipal council and Mayor James E. O'Donnell were present during the evening and contributed to the program.

During the evening smoking was enjoyed and refreshments were served. The entire evening's entertainment was well received and greatly appreciated by those present.

William E. Kenefick, chairman of the joint committee on arrangements, presided and introduced the various speakers. Among those who spoke were: President William McElroy of local No. 352 of the International Union of Steam Engineers; President John T. Hendricks of local No. 14 of the International Brotherhood of Firemen; Commissioner James E. Donnelly, who made a brief address, sang Scotch songs and gave a recitation; President Thomas H. Constant of Boston.

WILLIAM E. KENEFICK

President of the Massachusetts branch of the International Union of Steam Engineers, Joseph A. Nash of Boston, business agent of Local No. 16 of Boston and vice president of the state branch of the International Union of Steam Engineers; Mayor James E. O'Donnell, Commissioner Lawrence Cummings, President Timothy O'Rourke of the Trades and Labor council, Commissioner Andrew E. Barrett, Owen Staniford of Lawrence, vice president of Local No. 516 of the International Union of Steam Engineers; Charles E. Anderson, secretary of the Trades and Labor council; John W. Downing, secretary of Local No. 352 of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen; John McFadden, organizer of Local 352, and Michael Ryan, the vice president. John Mutter, also of Local No. 352, sang several Scotch songs, in imitation of Harry Lauder, and played several solos on the flute. Jack Dalton, of Local No. 14, International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen, gave several songs, as did also Daniel Dwyer of the International Union of Steam Engineers, Local No. 352.

The joint committee from the brotherhood of firemen and from the union of engineers was as follows: William E. Kenefick, chairman; Albra W. Horgan, secretary; William McElroy and Michael Ryan, all of the engineers, and John T. Hendricks, John W. Downing, Dominick Meahan, and Michael J. Connelly of the firemen.

FILENE ANSWERS WANAMAKER

The republicans have made a campaign document of the letter of John Wanamaker pleading for the election of President Taft, but Wanamaker's letter has been very ably answered and the fallacy of its reasoning exposed by Mr. E. A. Filene, the merchant prince of Boston. Mr. Filene insists that there can be no business prosperity without stability and that there can be no stability under the vacillating administration of President Taft. In fact, Mr. Filene states as his positive opinion that the one thing likely to prevent the setting in of a great period of prosperity would be the re-election of President Taft, while the thing that would make prosperity more certain would be the election of Gov. Wilson. His reason for making this contrast is, that stability would come with the election of Wilson and instability with that of Taft.

Mr. Filene shows that the reform which is demanded by the people all over this country and the contest for which has split the republican party in twain, cannot come if President Taft be elected because he has repeatedly vetoed the very measures which the people want and which will inevitably come if Wilson be elected. Mr. Filene flatly contradicts the statement of Mr. Wanamaker that a republican administration insures prosperity. In proof of this he cites the hard times of 1893 which started under the McKinley administration in 1890 and 1891. He also refers to the republican panic of 1907 as a result of republican tariff laws. In reference to what is known as the "silent government," Mr. Filene refers to the compact group of financiers who control the large banks and the credit of the country. These men, he said, will be placed under proper restraint if Governor Wilson be elected, as he alone among the candidates is pledged to legislation which will prevent such financial confederacies as now control the business and credit of the nation. Mr. Filene, it seems, has much the better of the argument as Wanamaker's letter merely rehearsed the old-time republican claim that prosperity must follow republican rule and hard times and panic democratic rule.

PATRIOTISM OF LAWRENCE ASSERTED

There is a great deal of comment in the press of the country in regard to the city of Lawrence and its outlook for the future. We are glad to note that the city is rising triumphant over a situation that seemed to threaten its industrial future. The patriotism of the people of Lawrence has been asserted and will be asserted to overthrow any attempt to ruin the industrial standing of the municipality by revolutionary leaders posing as the friends of labor.

While the patriotic citizens of Lawrence were honoring the flag and condemning the society that flaunted the anarchistic emblem on the public streets, the leaders of this faction were diligently circulating literature of the worst kind attacking the city of Lawrence, the municipal authorities, the flag and even the constitution of the United States. The circulars thus issued show that the men who prepared them are well educated and well trained in this particular line of work. These are the men responsible for leading their dupes into violations of law and attacks upon the American flag. They are endeavoring to destroy the industries in which they were employed. The city would be well rid of operatives who persist in pursuing this policy towards the textile factories. But if the professional leaders were driven out, we believe the rank and file would attend to their business without any further attempt to make trouble. After the trial of Eitor and that of President Wood, we expect that Lawrence will see a period of better times and absolute industrial peace.

SALEM WANTS A NEW CHARTER

The city of Salem is going through the preliminary experience of adopting a new charter. The commission form of charter is, we believe, that mainly under consideration, and it is probable that some modification of this form of charter will be adopted. It would be refreshing to find some city with originally enough to frame a charter of a different character and yet abolish the old bicameral system that produced so many deadlocks and other forms of delay in the transaction of public business. There are some people who after living under the commission form of government for a few years, aver that the commission of five members is too small. How to overcome this defect is a problem that may seriously engage the friends of municipal reform in future years. We understand that some cities in the northwest have evolved a charter providing for a council of twelve, the functions of which are to recommend and supervise the acts of the executive council of five. It is claimed that the advantage of this dual council is that no important action can be independently taken by a mere majority of the council of five. That in itself is a protection against corruption that may be found necessary if it should happen that the small commission proves dishonest.

TO IMPROVE POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS

In his address at the democratic rally on Tuesday evening Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan stated that if elected to congress one of the things that would occupy his attention would be a change in the management of postal savings banks so that the money would be retained in the locality in which it is deposited and loaned out for the benefit of local industries or to help farmers or those who wished to secure a loan for building purposes. At the present time the rate of interest paid by the postal savings banks is but two per cent., whereas the ordinary savings bank pays 3 1/2 or 4 per cent. The latter also loan the money for building and other purposes in the districts in which they are located. Thus the locality is benefited. Mr. O'Sullivan's idea is a good one, although it would not be of as much service to Lowell as to some other places because the deposits in the postal savings bank in Lowell are not very large.

MAJOR LUNN'S NOTORIETY

Mayor Lunn of Schenectady, N. Y., is getting a great deal of notoriety out of his recent arrest for making a speech in a public park. The police of the town in which he was arrested hold that he was speaking without a permit, which, according to the regulations of the place, he should have secured. This is an old dodge with some itinerant orators, who, after being arrested, try to make it appear that they are being victimized and denied the right of free speech. The fact is, that if a city or town has any regulation providing that a speaker must secure a permit from the local authorities before he can deliver an address on a public street or in a public park, he should be obliged to comply with the rule or pay the penalty. It is all nonsense to claim that the enforcement of any such law is an infringement of the right of free speech.

JACK JOHNSON'S CASE

Jack Johnson has got himself into serious trouble in Chicago as a result of his attempt to get possession of a young white girl in face of the opposition of her parents. The Chicago authorities have already taken action on the matter while his case is before the grand jury and the upshot may be that Johnson will be landed in jail while the Chicago authorities may drive him out of the city. The fact that he is champion pugilist of the world will not shield him from the consequence of his acts when he becomes a moral monster and a scandal to the community.

THE COLONEL AT HOME

Everybody will now rejoice that Col. Roosevelt is home again and that he is rapidly recovering from the effects of his wound. Some of the papers supporting him are lavish in their praise of the equanimity he has shown under the trying circumstances of the last two weeks. But Roosevelt in the hospital at Chicago did more for his campaign than he could have done on the stump. This was a case in which the attempt to defeat him worked to his advantage.

Seen and Heard

From the experience of Officer O'Brien of the local police force it is evident that there are cities whose inhabitants place a higher value on The Sun than do the citizens of Lowell. Mr. O'Brien recently spent part of his vacation in Atlantic City, and while enjoying a stroll on the board walk he chanced upon a man selling papers who in fog-horn tones advertised that he would sell "your own town paper." The Lowell police officer asked for a copy of The Sun, and the energetic salesman, whose stock was almost as large as himself, drew forth the paper in question for which Mr. O'Brien paid the sum of eight cents. Officer O'Brien said that he also had an opportunity of reading his "home town paper" in the library at Washington, D. C., where he found a copy on file.

TOMORROW

My friend, have you heard of the town of Yawn.
On the banks of the River Slow,
Where blooms the Walt-a-while flower fair,
And the Some-time-or-other scents the air,
And the soft Go-easy's grow?

It lies in the valley of What's-tho-use,
In the province of Let-her-slide;
That "old tired feeling" is native there—
It's the home of the listless I-don't-care.

—The Searchlight.

"The processes of rationalization of the human animal is something devilous," philosophized Bob Woolley, once a prominent newspaper correspondent in Washington, but now reformed and being on his permanent farm in Fairfax, where he divides his time between writing for the magazines and raising an occasional can of tomatoes.
"As I boarded the electric car at the Fairfax terminus today the conductor spied a tortoise I was bringing in to Washington to a small boy.
"No dogs allowed on the car, sir," he politely objected.
"But this isn't a dog," I protested, "it's a tortoise."
"Well, I'll have to ask the office about it," he finally decided, and disappeared into the telephone booth.
"It's all right, Mr. Woolley," he said, emerging a few minutes later and ringing the starting signal. "cats is dogs, and rabbits is dogs, but a tortoise is a insect."—Washington Times

THISTLE CLUB PLAY

"Willowdale" Was Presented by Amateurs

The cleverly constructed three-act play, "Willowdale," was presented last evening by the Thistle club, a well known amateur dramatic organization, of the First Presbyterian church, in the vestry, and the production was enjoyed by a large sized audience.

The piece was given under the direction of Mrs. Thomas B. Wilde, and the actors performed their parts exceedingly well. "Willowdale" is a pleasing combination of humorous situations and emotions, and the performance last evening was characterized by excellent stage management and scenic arrangements. The characters called for by the cast were well portrayed by the members, and the costumes were no small feature of the evening's entertainment.

Harry Leavitt, as a dishonest lawyer, was remarkably good and Miss Mabelle Molloy did very well in the part of the heroine. All those who took part are deserving of great commendation for the admirable way in which they entered into the spirit of the thing and made the event a success. The cast and synopsis were as follows:

Joel Bassett, postmaster and store-keeper ..... Robert Caddell
Tom Skerrett, the accused.

George Love
Joseph Godfrey, a lawyer, ambitious and unscrupulous ..... Harry Leavitt
Clarence Dismore, the minister ..... James Campbell
Rev. Mr. Prosser, the minister.

Leslie Field
Lem Hackett, leader of the choir and impromptu detective ..... Harry Jepson Simon Plumer, who would rather while than work ..... David Caddell Millie Bassett, a child of fate.

Mabelle Molloy
Mrs. Bassett, Joel's wife, inclined to have her own way ..... Minnie Tucker
Rosetta Gates, a bit flighty, but a true friend ..... Blanche Kelly
Miss Hazey, who imagines things.

Synopsis:
Oleander, the "help" who thinks life is a joke ..... Mae Field

Act 1—Interior of the Willowdale postoffice and Joel Bassett's store on an afternoon in September. The accusation.

Act 2—Sitting room of the Bassett house, the evening of the church social, the following week. The engagement.

Act 3—The same as Act 2, one month later. The wedding.

Between the acts there were popular songs by Miss Louisa Johnson and John Y. Myers, which were well received and heartily enjoyed.

HELD BARN DANCE

Oakland Canoe Club Conducted Novel Affair at the Factory of J. G. Wood Last Evening

The factory of J. G. Wood at 400 East Merrimack street was the scene of a genuine old-fashioned barn dance last evening under the auspices of the Oakland Canoe club. The interior decorations of Japanese lanterns, branches of mistletoe and large sheaves of corn contributed to the scene of the event a very attractive appearance. The factory itself is an ideal place for the holding of such a dance.

The guests of the evening came to the affair attired in rural costume, and this added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. Mr. Curtis's orchestra furnished the music.

The committee in charge of the dance comprised: Henry Wood, chairman; William Wood, Francis Haggerty, William Haggerty, George Pendergast, John Pendergast, Harold Corson, Joseph Curtin and Alphonse Barriere.

LYCEUM COURSE OPENED

With Concert by Thompson Jubilee Singers

The first of the lyceum course of six concerts was given at the Worthen St. Baptist church last evening and, notwithstanding the disagreeable weather, there was a large attendance.

Last evening's entertainment was provided by the Thompson Jubilee Singers, and the program was one that appealed to all. The company consisted of four men and two women, all colored, who rendered selections, that, while written many years ago, will never grow old. The audience was carried down south, to the days before the war, by the rendition of the popular negro melodies.

Every number was enthusiastically received, and all were obliged to respond to encores. The singers possess excellent voices and they used them to good advantage. Especially good were the choruses, where the harmonious voices of the singers blended exquisitely. The solo numbers were most pleasing, and in all the concert was one of the best of its kind ever held in this city. The success scored by the Jubilee Singers reflects great credit on the company, as well as the committee under whose auspices the entertainment was given. Five more concerts will be given, and taking last night's program as a criterion the others will be worthy of attendance in large numbers of the local lovers of good music.

The complete program was as follows:
Opening chorus, Company
Baritone solo, "Live Huckle," Mr. Board
Plantation shout, "That's a Jubilee," Mr. Thomas and the Company
Southern melody, "Ding Dong Bell," Mrs. Board
Revival song, "Battle of Jericho," Mr. Sissle
Negro hymn, "A Little While A-rolling in My Heart," Miss Barry
Negro melody, "Tollin' and Rockin' Them in My Arms," Mr. Thomas and Company
Song, "Annie Lure," Mr. Board
Revival song, "Marching to Hallelujah," Company
Song, "Swanee River," Mrs. Board
Recitation, "Let Me Alone," Mr. Sissle
Cornet solo, Selected, Mrs. Board
Bass solo, "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," Mr. Thomas
Quartet, "My Love," Messrs. Thomas, Board, Noble, Sissle
Finale chorus, "Good-Night," Company
Accompanist, Mr. Noble.

SIX YEAR OLD TRAVELER

Comes From Kansas City to Boston

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—A lone little traveler arrived in Boston from Kansas City last night. She is Ethel Miller, 6 years of age, and is now at the home of her aunt, Mrs. David Waters, 1620 Harrison avenue, Roxbury, who intends to adopt the fair-haired, blue-eyed little miss.

A pathetic incident in connection with the child's arrival here is that her mother, who had made all the arrangements for adopting Ethel when her mother died two months ago, because he never had a girl of his own, although blessed with six sons, died Monday and was buried at Mt. Hope while the little traveler was on her way to Boston.

Her first cousin, Solomon Waters, and Mrs. David Winthrop of 99 Hampden street, another aunt, met the train at the North station, where it arrived last night at 9:40. "Where is my Uncle David?" was the first query put by the child to Mrs. Winthrop, who at one time lived in Kansas City and easily recognized little Ethel.

On the trip to this city Ethel was the special charge of the conductor, and when the excitement of her arrival at the home of her adoption had worn off she prattled about dinners on the train and other luxuries bestowed upon her by the passengers who individually "looked out for her." Mrs. Waters, fearing the child would be lonesome, had a number of her relatives at the Harrison avenue house to welcome her.

Although she was somewhat shy, little Ethel Miller admitted to a reporter that she was a bit lonesome for her papa and four brothers and sisters in Kansas City.

Local Passenger Agent W. H. Spears of the Nickel Plate road met and boarded the train upon which Ethel was traveling 20 miles out of Boston and gave the child in her waiting relatives when the train arrived in Boston.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL
The regular meeting of Echo lodge, No. 44, N. E. O. P., was held last night and there was a large attendance despite the inclement weather. Considerable business was transacted during the meeting after which an entertainment program was carried out. There were readings by Sisters Agnes C. Porter and Margaret McLean. At the next meeting, the 25th anniversary of the lodge will be celebrated. Extensive preparations are already in progress for its celebration and it is expected that there will be a large attendance.

Price That Was Paid to New York Boys

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Fifty cents a burglary is the rate frequently paid to boys by an organized gang of crooks in West Forty-fifth street that employs youngsters to do the bulk of its work, one of the young operators for the band told in police court yesterday.

Three boys, averaging a dozen years in age, called as witnesses in the case of John Clark, accused of a flat robbery, admitted committing the crime, but said they were not paid more than fifty cents for their part in the robbery, and that a gang known as the "Forty-Fifters" fathered many such robberies.

"The Forty-Fifters" are all the time getting boys to rob for them," testified 13-year-old Joseph Cook. "They pick out the places to be robbed and put the boys in overalls and then pay the boys 50 cents or a dollar."

Prohibition Ordered

For All Indian Agents and Employees

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Prohibition of all Indian agents and employees has been ordered by Acting Commissioner Abbott of the Indian bureau, who today issued directions to employees to co-operate constantly in overcoming the great difficulties of keeping intoxicating liquors from the Indians.

Recent reports to the bureau indicate that there is a laxity at some Indian schools and agencies and that certain government physicians prescribe liquor for medicinal purposes. Mr. Abbott warned that intoxicants constituted a great menace to Indian health and progress and that use of liquor without permission of the secretary of war, even for medicinal purposes, was prohibited, except when for church purposes.

Awarded Medal of Honor

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Although his heroism was not recognized officially for more than a decade, Secretary MacVane has awarded a silver medal of honor to Alexander George, a member of the Fourth Infantry for rescuing Private Alexander Hewson from drowning in the Barrack river, Philippines, 11 years ago.

which were greatly appreciated by everyone. This entertainment was the opening of the fall season and many other entertainments are to follow.

Probably there is not another club in the state that has a club house or clubhouse grounds equal to the Highland club. The club house is an immense building, finely equipped and furnished throughout. The grounds are beautifully laid out and are kept in splendid condition.

Eleven Has a Tough Game Saturday

The entertainment committee for the Ladies' Night is as follows: Chairman, Frederick G. Woodworth; W. E. Potter, J. W. Kernan, Albert G. McCurdy, and H. Webster.

The following is the list of the officers of the club: President, Maurice E. Vallant; vice president, F. H. Safford; treasurer, C. F. Libbey; secretary, Richard Charlton; directors, J. F. Owens, Cyrus Barton, G. D. Hawley, F. W. Sherman and O. J. Webster.

To Hear Petition for a Track Extension

Coach Mahoney's gridiron army of the Lowell high school will find themselves "up against" quite a difficult proposition next Saturday in the persons of the Boston Latin eleven who will be their opponents at Washington park. The Boston Latin aggregation are rated by many followers of the sport and football writers as Boston's best and they will journey to the blows. Consequently fans may expect a good exhibition Saturday afternoon. It is encouraging and highly pleasing to note that authorities comment favorably on the football teams of the Merrimack valley: in particular the Haverhill and Everett High school elevens are supposed to be about the best in New England and the game between these two rivals which will be played in Everett on Saturday will be a big factor in deciding the championship.

Authorities at the High school have been notified that in using the Middlesex street entrance to Washington park the salaries are graded from $600 to $1200 per year. The test will include spelling, arithmetic, letter writing, penmanship, copying and reading addresses and the age limits are 18 and 15 years.

The clerk and carrier is announced by the civil service commission to take place at the post office on November 2 and the salaries are graded from $600 to $1200 per year. The test will include spelling, arithmetic, letter writing, penmanship, copying and reading addresses and the age limits are 18 and 45 years.

THE O'SULLIVAN CAMPAIGN TOUR THEY HAVE FOUGHT TURKISH TROOPS SAYS VIOLENCE WAS URGED FOR SEVERAL DAYS AND CAPTURED KIRK-KILISSEH

TO SUFFER THE DEATH PENALTY A GREAT BATTLE IS RAGING

Diaz and His Officers to be Killed as a Result of the Rebellion

LONDON, Oct. 24.—While the Balkan nations and Turkey are all generous with official statements as to the progress of the war in other parts of European Turkey they maintain complete silence in regard to the great battle which has been raging for the last two days between Adrianople and Kirk-Kilisseh, for news of which all the world is waiting.

The reports issued from the opposing sides as to the other battles show grave discrepancies. As to the main event near Adrianople what has been published up to the present is largely supposition. British military officers who for many years have made a specialty of studying the Balkan military preparations lean to the belief that the Turkish army has been holding the line between Adrianople and Kirk-Kilisseh with a covering force estimated at about 70,000 men and that the main Ottoman army is only just due on the scene. These same army critics say that the Bulgarian army has the advantage of occupying rising ground at Kirk-Kilisseh and that the Turks must have their full force in order to dislodge them.

THE STATE INSPECTORS COLONEL ROOSEVELT

Came Here to Confer With Mayor May Soon Resume His Campaign Work

SALEM, Oct. 24.—Having disposed of 27 witnesses in two days the commonwealth in the trial of Joseph J. Ettor, Arturo Giovannitti and Joseph Caruso, charged with responsibility for the murder of Anna Loizzo in a strike riot at Lawrence last winter, planned today to continue hastening the prosecution.

More police officers and street carmen who went through the strike disorders were on hand to testify and District Attorney Attwell predicted that the case of the commonwealth might be concluded by the end of the week or early next week at the latest. Important witnesses, the district attorney declared, are to be called.

Police Inspector Kellher of Lawrence who testified yesterday to the circumstances of the fatal riot on Jan. 29 resumed the stand when court convened. Under cross examination by Attorney Mahoney, Kellher admitted that the head of a detective agency had introduced him to two of his operatives during the strike and that he had seen one of these men marching with the strikers on various occasions. Kellher denied that he saw the detective joining in the shouts and demonstrations of the mill workers.

He was followed to the stand by Charles Bencardo, a private detective who said he had been employed in the strike, had attended strike meetings and become acquainted with Defendants Ettor and Giovannitti with William D. Haywood, leader of the Industrial Workers of the World and others interested in the strike. Bencardo, who speaks Italian, said he attended a meeting of strikers in a Syrian church on Jan. 28, the day before the riots which was addressed by Giovannitti and others. The detective identified an Italian circular which was handed to him at the door of the church and which he later turned over to Captain Proctor of the state district police. District Attorney Attwell had Bencardo read in Italian and then translate it into English and read it to the jurors. The circular was addressed to Italian strikers. It said that "certain carmen and cowboys" were trying to get the mill workers to return to work on the pretext that the American Woolen Co. had conceded all the strikers' demands.

"It is not so," the circular continued. "It is a dirty lie. Whoever comes to you and asks you to return to work is a traitor and a spy. Throw them down stairs, break their bones and give them a remembrance for life."

The circular was signed by the defendants Ettor and Giovannitti and one Mazzarella, a member of the strike committee. At the meeting where the circulars were distributed Bencardo said Giovannitti told the strikers to be ready on the following morning at five o'clock.

Attorney Peters began the cross-examination of Detective Bencardo after Charles M. Ayers, who had been assaulted by strikers Jan. 29 had described his experience. The counsel probed the life of Bencardo from boyhood, endeavoring to trace his education and his knowledge of Italian. Bencardo said he had lived among Italians all his life and knew that there were many dialects. Words in Italian, he said, had different meanings in various dialects. About the pure Italian tongue, Bencardo said he knew little. Counsel endeavored to lay a foundation for disputing the detective's translation of Giovannitti's speech on the Lawrence common and his translation of the striker's circular letter last Jan. 24.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

MR. HENRI CARPENTIER

MRS. HENRI CARPENTIER

Observed by Mr. and Mrs. Henri Carpentier Who Were Congratulated by Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Henri Carpentier of 27 Ellis court today observed their silver wedding anniversary, the affair, however, being only in the line of a family gathering. The happy couple were the recipients of many silver gifts and were showered with congratulations by their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpentier are well known in this city, having resided in Lowell nearly all their lives and at 27

Ellis court for the past seven years. Mr. Carpentier was born at St. Hyacinthe, Que., on July 13, 1865, and while very young came to this city with his family, and has remained here ever since. Twenty-seven years ago he secured employment at Littlefield's paper box shop and through his steady and efficient work he became head shiping clerk, a position he is still holding. The shop is now known as

BEWARE YOUNG MAN

IT'S THE LITTLE DANDRUFF GERMS THAT ARE CAUSING YOUR HAIR TO THIN OUT

Parisian Sage Stops Falling Hair and Does Not Contain Poisonous Lead or Dyes

The clever young man of today doesn't take any chances on losing his hair. A man who is baldheaded at 30 looks like 45, and is placed at a disadvantage when seeking employment.

If you have dandruff, it means that the roots of your hair are being attacked by the hair root and destroying its vitality. Then hair falls out; grows thin and baldness results. Young men put your faith in the wonderful PARISIAN SAGE. It will stop falling hair, kill dandruff germs, abolish dandruff and itching scalp, or money back.

PARISIAN SAGE is only 50 cents a bottle at your druggist's and dealers everywhere. Get with auburn hair on every carton. Ask for PARISIAN SAGE.

French's paper box shop. A few years ago, although working in the shop during the day, Mr. Carpentier conducted a candy establishment in Salem street, and made his own candy.

Mrs. Carpentier was born at St. Hyacinthe, Que., on May 21, 1865, and has been a resident of this city for the past 27 years. The couple were married in Lowell on Oct. 24, 1887, the ceremony being performed at the Immaculate Conception rectory by the late Rev. A. M. Chapin. At that time St. Joseph's church in Lee street had been opened, but the Oblate fathers of that parish made their home at the Immaculate Conception church rectory.

Eight children were born to the happy couple, six of whom are living, namely: Eva, Wilfred, Gertrude, Leo, Leo and Aurelie. Mr. Carpentier is a prominent member of the C. M. A. C. and of Lowell's council, R. A., while his wife is a respected member of St. Anne's sodality of St. Joseph's parish. This evening a reception will be held at their home, those to take part to be only the immediate relatives.

FIRE ALARM SYSTEM

And Gamewell Service Out of Commission

IN PART OF BELVIDERE LAST NIGHT

Cross of a Light Wire is Thought to Have Caused the Trouble—Temporary Repairs Made

The heavy rainstorm last night raised havoc with the fire and police telegraph systems and numerous boxes were put out of commission. The principal damage was done in Belvidere and Electrician Burns of the police department and Electrician Fernald of the fire department have been kept on the jump since about 2.30 o'clock this morning endeavoring to locate the trouble and make the necessary repairs. Several of the boxes, especially those on the police telegraph system, were damaged to such an extent that they will have to be sent to the Gamewell company to be repaired.

Four fire boxes and five police boxes in Belvidere were put out of commission and that the patrolmen who run in from the police boxes in question were not seriously injured is little short of a miracle.

Electrician Burns stated that the trouble to the police boxes was caused by an electric light wire coming in contact with a police wire on a guy which led to a connecting box.

Both Messrs. Burns and Fernald have succeeded in making temporary repairs for the present in order that the telegraph systems will not be seriously injured.

One of the freaks of the storm caused the sounding of between 20 and 30 blows on the bell in the cupola on the Highland school in Pine street about two o'clock this morning and people living within sounding distance of the bell thought it was a riot call. Mayor O'Donnell upon learning of the damage done to the police and fire telegraph systems stated that he would take the matter up with representatives of the Lowell Electric Light Corporation and the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. in order to locate the cause of the trouble.

Clapp Committee Adjourned WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—After a brief executive session today the Clapp committee investigating campaign funds found no witness on hand and adjourned until tomorrow when former Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana is to testify about expenditure of campaign money in his 1904 senate campaign.

INTERESTING PAPERS

That Were Filed in a Suit for Damages

While going through some of the records at the registry of deeds office at the local courthouse in Gorham street, the writer found some very interesting facts relative to a suit which was brought against the Essex company of Lawrence sometime after it built a dam across the Merrimack river in Lawrence. It seems that as a result of the dam being constructed the channel of the river could not carry along all of the water from a freshet and that a certain portion of land owned by Royal Call was damaged by the water.

Mr. Call intended to bring suit against the company for recovery of damages, and two of his witnesses, Messrs. Ephraim Richardson and Coburn Blood, who were 75 and 93 years of age, respectively, were asked to give their deposition under oath for fear they might pass away before the time of the trial. Lawyers Isaac S. Morse and William A. Richardson, who were preparing the case, accompanied by another justice of the peace, called on the witnesses and took their depositions relative to the matter. Mr. Richardson at that time lived in Centralville, while Mr. Blood occupied the house now situated next to the Pawtucket Congregational church in Riverside street, and up to a short time ago occupied by L. P. Turcotte.

The deposition of Mr. Ephraim Richardson followed. Ephraim Richardson of Lowell in the Richardson county of Middlesex and commonwealth of Massachusetts on oath depose and say: I am seventy-five years old and in my seventy-sixth year and reside in that part of Lowell called Centralville in the same place where I have resided for the last twenty-seven years. During nearly all that time my business rafting and other business on the Merrimack river all the way from far above to far below Lowell. I have acted as pilot on the said river during all that time and previous. I have been familiar with "Hunt's Falls," so-called at Lowell and below there. In running "Hunt's Falls" we sometimes ran straight and sometimes crooked, according to the state of the water. There is a stone at the landing at Beaver brook which has always been a gulf as to whether we could cross "Hunt's" falls out of water about six inches to a mark in the said stone, very small logs might pass straight, but not large ones. Large logs could only go straight when only the whole of said stone was under water. That stone was below the water three feet last Friday when I measured it. Since the Essex company have built their dam at Lawrence on the Merrimack river there is more water on Hunt's falls than there was before. We can now run the same size timber where said stone is six inches out of water that we could only run previously when said stone was all under water. I have done it several times. I remember the great freshet of the Merrimack river some years previous to 1800, which was all-freshet ever known on the river. My impression is that of the land lying between what is now Dr. Royal Call's land and said river not more than one acre or one and a half acres was out of water, the remainder being covered by the freshet.

(Signed) Ephraim Richardson. Mr. Blood's deposition was as follows: "I, Coburn Blood of Draught, in the county of Middlesex and commonwealth of Massachusetts, on oath depose and say: I shall be 93 years old on the fifteenth day of September next, if I live so long, and have lived in Draught where I now live ever since I was born. I remember the great freshet on the Merrimack river in 1785. The water at that time rose up to my house not quite to the sills of my house, however, being the same house I now occupy. The freshet of this spring, 1852, was higher and the water rose up on the sills of my house to within an inch of the top. I calculated the difference was about six inches between the old freshet and the last one at my house. At the time of the old freshet there was no bridge and no dam at Pawtucket falls. There was a sawmill at Pawtucket falls there and a partial dam running from the Great rock to the Chelmsford side of the river and this partial dam and mill was swept away by the old freshet. There were no falls from between that part of the river opposite my house and where the dam now is at Pawtucket falls.

Signed: Coburn Blood.

BUTCHERS WERE MOBBED

Wild Riot in the Berlin Markets

BERLIN, Oct. 24.—Hundreds of Berlin housewives joined in a wild riot yesterday because the butchers in the municipal markets refused to handle meat imported so as to reduce the cost of living.

The principal trouble occurred in the Wedding district, which is entirely inhabited by working people. Hundreds of women went to the municipal market here yesterday morning, hoping to profit by the reduced prices settled on by the municipal council. They found, however, that the butchers had agreed not to deal in meat imported by the municipality. They then stormed the butchers' stalls, seized all the native-raised meat, trampled it on the ground and fought with the butchers who were trying to protect it from destruction.

The police were forced to close the market to put an end to the riot. The prices of meat are so high in Berlin that the government recently broke its strict embargo on imported meats and allowed the city authorities to bring in and sell meats from abroad at the city markets and to control the prices. The butchers at first agreed to handle these meats, but late Tuesday evening announced that they had decided on a general boycott of them in the 12 municipal markets of Berlin. As the market in the Wedding district is one of the most frequented the trouble came to a head there.

The municipality declares its intention of punishing the butchers by cancelling their licenses.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE

Ass't Postmaster Placed Under Arrest

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 24.—Charged with the alleged embezzlement of $5000 from the Baltimore post office, where he has served for six years or more as assistant postmaster, Ernest A. Farris was arrested today by federal officials.

The arrest was made on a warrant brought from Portland just before noon by Deputy United States Marshal Ferdinand E. Stevens at the instance of Postoffice Inspectors A. H. Pierce and C. C. Hart, who had been investigating the affairs of the local office. It was claimed that in addition to the money alleged to have been taken, many letters have been missed from the office. Farris is about 30 years of age and has a wife and four children. Arrangements were made to take him to Bangor this afternoon for arraignment before a commissioner.

O'SULLIVAN CAMPAIGN TOUR

whom he referred to as a man of big affairs, strong, able and progressive. The governor was to have joined Mr. O'Sullivan in Lowell yesterday morning but business kept him at the state house until noon.

Archie Roosevelt Leads Moose Yell

Speechmaking in the rain was not the most desirable thing in the world, but it didn't seem to interfere with the success of the O'Sullivan tour yesterday. Speeches were made in the rain all right and the people, men, women and children, stood in the rain and listened to them. It was the kind of enthusiasm that the weather clerk could not dampen, and it remained for the college town of Andover to offer the only interruption. The Bull Moose yell was raised by the students in the town square while Hon. David I. Walsh was talking, and the belligerents were led by Archie Roosevelt, son of the original Bull Moose, Col. Theodore Roosevelt. It was in bad taste to say the least, and had Col. Roosevelt been there he undoubtedly would have frowned upon it. But Archie Roosevelt and his college comrades at Andover are young, and they may live to acquire better manners. The man whom they interrupted, Hon. David I. Walsh, gave them some good advice. He told them they should appreciate the fact that they were fortunate enough to be in college, but that they ought not to be selfish. "I admire the spirit of youth," he said, "and personally I care little for the interruption. I am a college man and I know what college life means. I do not want to offend you in any way, but I would ask you not to be selfish. You ought to have regard for the rights and privileges of others, for men like that man over there with a child in his arms are really interested. I have a message for each man and one they want to hear. I want to tell them something that I think will be of assistance to them, but you seem determined that they shall not hear the message. That man with a child in his arms has not had the educational advantages that you are enjoying, and that brings to mind another point that I would impress upon you. When you have finished your education you should think of these not as fortunate as yourselves. You ought not to look upon your education as a stepping-stone to wealth, but rather as an instrument with which to assist your fellowman. I go back again to the man with the child in his arms and I want you to get interested in him and other men in his station of life. You are all clean, bright looking young men, full of youth's cheer and college glories, and I am sure that when you stop to think of it you will permit me to deliver my message to the man with the child in his arms." The college boys allowed Mr. Walsh to deliver the message and the Bull Moose yell was not again heard in the town while the party remained.

The Whirlwind Tour

The first stop after leaving O'Sullivan headquarters yesterday morning was at Pepperell. The next was Groton and then came Ayer, Hudson, Maynard, Concord Junction square, Dedford, Woburn, Reading and Andover.

In the crowd at Andover the Hon. John N. Cole was recognized. He was named if he was supporting any part of the democratic or bull moose ticket, and he replied that he expected to see a sweeping victory for the republicans.

"John seems strangely optimistic," said Mr. O'Sullivan.

Hon. Charles S. Hamlin

Hon. Charles S. Hamlin urged very eloquently the election of Mr. O'Sullivan to congress. Mr. Hamlin is one of the very best speakers on the public platform in Massachusetts today, and he is a very able man, politically and otherwise. He was right at home yesterday for he was born in Westford and used to visit his grandparents in Groton and Ayer. Mr. Hamlin is very much interested in agricultural pursuits and speaking in Groton he said he made his first financial transaction in that town. His grandmother gave him a certain amount to drive the cows back and forth to pasture. He wasn't very fussy about driving the cows and he suited the job to another boy. He let the job for ten cents less than his grandmother had given him and he made ten cents without doing any work. That, he said, was his first financial transaction and the little story amused his listeners.

"I have been campaigning for years," said Mr. Hamlin, "and I think I have never spoken in the interest of any man better equipped for the office he sought than is Mr. O'Sullivan for congress. He is a true blue American, a representative citizen and a man of large affairs. He has carved out his own fortune by hard work, sagacity and intelligence and the vim, the energy and the determination such as he exercised in the carving out of that fortune is the energy and determination that have made this country what it is today. This is a very peculiar political campaign. Usually there is a big fight on, but in this campaign, because of dissension in the republican party, we simply stand back and witness the struggle of the two factions. We stand in the position of first aid to the injured."

Reduction of Tariff

Hon. David I. Walsh said some very nice things about Mr. O'Sullivan and said it would be a fine thing for the district to elect Mr. O'Sullivan to congress. He told of Mr. O'Sullivan's success as a business man and of his honesty of purpose. "No man is fit to serve his fellow man," said Mr. Walsh, "unless he is capable of studying their problems. Mr. O'Sullivan is a man of wealth, a successful manufacturer and he sprang from the ranks of the laboring man. He's a man of broad human sympathies and he can go in among the people and solve their problems."

Mr. O'Sullivan

Mr. O'Sullivan declared in his speeches that he believed in a reduction of the tariff, but was not a free trader. He said that political campaigning was now business for him, but it was generally conceded that he took very kindly to it. He said that he got into the fight to do what he could to assist the party. He was very optimistic as to his election and said there was no doubt about it. "When elected," he said, "I will go into every town and consult with the interests there. It will be my great aim to get in close touch with the needs and requirements of the district, the towns as well as the cities and then I will proceed to do what I can to relieve conditions. I have reason to believe that I can be of service to the people of this district, and it will be my delight to assist them. I have arrived at that time of life and I am so situated that I feel like doing things for as many people as I can. I am not in this fight for the money that goes with the office. I could earn more money at home, but I want to help you and yours and I am equally interested in agriculture and manufacturing and I am in favor of a tariff that will put something more into the pay envelope of the working man. I want to see the tariff reduced in such a way as to take the burden from the shoulders of the poor man. My sympathy goes out to the laboring man and I want to see the prices reduced on the things that go to the workingman's table. You have seen the cost of living going up and up, soaring to the sky, as it were. The cost of living has advanced 50 per cent. In the mean time the laborer is not getting much more for his labor than he got ten years ago. He is hardly as well off as he was ten years ago and yet the republicans who are responsible for the condition of affairs have the temerity to ask you for your votes. The time has come for some radical change and you can bring that about if you will vote the straight democratic ticket from top to bottom."

Rally Monday Night

There will be another big O'Sullivan rally in Associate hall next Monday night. The speakers will include Judge Alton B. Parker and David I. Walsh.

Osgood Spoke

Blaze in Store of P. Dempsey & Co.

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—Fire that originated on the sixth floor of the building at the corner of Morriss and Lancaster streets yesterday noon, in the establishment of P. Dempsey & Co., wholesale liquor dealers, had gained great headway before it was discovered by employees and did a total damage estimated at upwards of $10,000. On the sixth floor some of the highest quality liquors were stored and the flames gave the firemen a hard battle.

Than you can get anywhere in New England? We have always made $15.00 our strong price on Suits and Overcoats. Manufacturers know that we sell more suits and overcoats at this price than any two stores in Lowell. What is the consequence—We have several makers always trying to get our business on suits and overcoats at this price—They are trying to undersell each other and the outcome is that they quote prices so low that when we are ready to place our orders there is nothing in it for the manufacturer. Now this competition among the makers is nothing more than a benefit to you. We get suits and overcoats to sell for $15.00 that other stores have to get $20 for. We could fill a whole paper about our suits and overcoats at $15—their value—the patterns—the styles—the make, etc., but we know that you don't care to spend an hour reading an advertisement when you can come to this great clothing store and, if you are any judge of clothing, tell in a minute that we are selling suits and overcoats for $15.00 that you see in other stores at $20. If you lack confidence in your judgment of value come just the same, our salesmen will promptly prove to you that what we say is absolutely true—and you take no chances because every garment we sell from a collar button to a fur lined overcoat is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or we will replace it with a new garment—Can we do more to serve you?

THE OPEN AIR SCHOOL

Test is Being Made in Boston

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—Chairman Charles Logue of the Boston schoolhouse commission is greatly in favor of the "open air" schoolroom, which is now being tested in Boston and other New England cities, and believes that at least two of these "open-air" classrooms should be installed in every school building.

Chairman Logue was greatly impressed with the recent experiments in Brookline, which show that abundance of fresh air has marked effect on the health and growth of children. The Brookline report made by Chief Medical Inspector H. Lincoln Chase, M. D., shows that the average gain of children of the second grade in the "open-air" room was 3.18 pounds during the school year, as compared with 2.69 pounds in the closed room and 1.68 inches in height as compared with .95 inches.

are experimenting with a heating system of ventilation and heating in the Oliver Wendell Holmes school, Dorchester, which I believe will give us just about the right temperature and plenty of air. I do not think that the temperature should go higher than 55 degrees in the class room.

"The experiments in Boston with the 'open-air' room have been most successful, to my mind. The anaemic, debilitated and other delicate children are easily picked out by the school physicians and nurses, and they have enjoyed far better health while in the 'open-air' room."

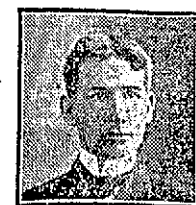

"The school committee this last year has provided 600 blankets in these new rooms, and the course of study and other requirements may be modified by the assistant superintendent after consultation with the director of school hygiene, Dr. Harrington."

"In all the newer schools we have installed 'open-air' rooms. These rooms have special windows which can be so adjusted that the room is open fully in at least one side to the outer air, and are kept at a temperature of about 50 to 54 degrees."

"The Benedict Fenwick, John Winthrop, Lafayette and George T. Angell schools, Roxbury and the U. S. Grant school, East Boston, are the most recent schools in which 'open-air' rooms have been installed."

FIRE PREVENTION DAY

Is Designated by Governor Foss

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—Saturday, Nov. 9, the 40th anniversary of the great Boston fire of 1872, has been designated as Fire Prevention day by Gov. Foss in a proclamation issued yesterday. His purpose is that by directing public attention to the dangers and the need of fire prevention, the losses may be diminished.

The proclamation follows: "To the end that we may lessen the serious destruction of property, and the risk and loss of many lives, now caused by preventable fires, I hereby designate and set apart Saturday, Nov. 9, as Fire Prevention day, that being the 40th anniversary of the great Boston fire which in 1872 destroyed a large part of Boston and involved a loss of $50,000,000.

"I urge that on Fire Prevention day

all property owners give particular heed to the inspection of their buildings and grounds. Defective chimneys and flues should be remedied; inflammable rubbish should be disposed of and all needless fire risks removed. "School authorities should redouble their efforts against the dangers of fire. Owners of stores, factories and mills should cause a special examination to be made of their premises.

"The newspapers throughout the state can render on that day effective public service by calling the attention of their readers emphatically to the duty of protecting life and property.

"The annual property loss by fire in the United States is estimated to be over $200,000,000, and over $5,000,000 in this commonwealth.

"Our fire losses per capita are stated to be eight times as great as the average in European countries, and 14 times as great as the per capita fire loss in Germany. Moreover our annual per capita loss is increasing in a very rapid ratio.

"During the past few days serious loss has been occasioned by many forest fires due in large part to defective spark arresters and faulty fire box construction on locomotives. More effective legislation is needed to control these risks.

"I hope that, public attention being directed to this subject, our heavy annual fire losses may be diminished. "In testimony whereof I have heretofore subscribed my name in the Capitol in the city of Boston, this 23d day of October, A. D. 1912.

"Eugene N. Foss."

Chelmsford Centre

The class of 1914 of the Chelmsford High School is to hold a social and dance in the town hall tomorrow evening. Libbard's orchestra is to furnish the music and a large crowd is expected to attend.

The Chelmsford grange is to be entertained by the grange at Hudson, N. H., this evening. The members of the Chelmsford organization have hired a special car for the occasion.

All of the schools are to close tomorrow in order that the teachers may attend the Middlesex county convention which is to be held in Boston tomorrow. Most all of the teachers will be present at the convention.

There is some talk of a large broom factory locating in the Robbins Hill district. If the factory decides to locate it will start building immediately. Nothing definite has been done as yet. The company has its principal factories in New York state and makes a specialty of hair brushes, brooms, etc. The plan is to make this a distributing centre for New England.

MAN GIVEN SEPARATION

Will Marry Wife No. 2 for Second Trial

HAVERHILL, Oct. 24.—Judge Hall yesterday issued a special decree granting Joseph Z. Gouline of this city a decree nisi from one wife and annulling his marriage to a second wife. The case was one of the most peculiar that has ever been tried in the superior court.

Gouline married Miss Evelyn Holland in Boston in 1897 and they separated in 1903. In 1907, as he had heard that his first wife had married again, Gouline concluded that she had secured a divorce and in 1909 he met Miss May L. Knowlton in Buffalo, where he was employed, and they were married.

Last year after he had returned east with his second wife, Gouline heard from his first wife, who declared that she was still married to him. After consulting a lawyer to straighten out the marital tangle Gouline and his second wife parted, but continued good friends.

Gouline asked for a divorce from his first wife on the ground of desertion, and also sought annulment of the second marriage. When the case was heard at Salem a legal point was raised as to whether Gouline could secure a divorce, as he had violated the law by marrying another. The legality of any divorce proceedings until after the first marriage was annulled was also questioned.

Mr. Gouline said last night that he would marry again, his prospective bride being the Buffalo woman whose marriage to him was annulled.

PETROPOULOS IS CAUGHT

Found in an Attic in Chicopee Yesterday

CHICOPEE, Oct. 24.—John Petropoulos, aged 20, who shot and instantly killed his sister, Theodoros, aged 18, Monday evening, it is alleged, as a result of a quarrel over love affairs, was arrested by the local police at 7 o'clock last night. Petropoulos was found at the home of his brother-in-law, Anastasios, who is a resident of Chicopee. Petropoulos offered no resistance, and his first question after being arrested was about his dead sister.

The police received information shortly before 7 o'clock that Petropoulos was at his brother-in-law's house and Inspector A. T. Caron, accompanied by Patrolman Edward Connor, Philip Geline and Richard Healy, went to the home. A thorough search of various rooms did not reveal the man wanted, but just before leaving Inspector Caron thought of the attic. Inspector Caron lifted Officer Connor up to a trap door and the officer scanned the room carefully. It was several minutes before he saw Petropoulos crouching in a corner. The officer drew his revolver, but the man made no resistance and was soon passed down to Inspector Caron, who placed him handcuffs on him.

Mrs. Petropoulos, who was in the house with her four-month-old baby, cried pitifully when her husband was taken before her to a paring, and the officers took the prisoner away quickly rather than prolong her grief. Since the tragedy she has been stopping at the home of her brother-in-law.

Petropoulos is said to have admitted the shooting. It is alleged he said he shot his sister because he didn't like the fellow she went with and she wouldn't give him up.

He said he had decided to surrender himself today.

His relatives told the police after his discovery that they did not know he was hiding in the house.

ATTORNEY SCHARTON

Says Russell's Lawyers Ramble

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—In stating his objection to the line of cross-examination of Dakota Dan by Attorney Nason, representing the Russell estate, in the Russell identity case, yesterday, Attorney Scharton, representing the claimant, asserted that the opposing counsel was unreasonably long and rambling in his questioning of the witness.

This objection and its accompanying remark followed minute questioning by Attorney Nason as to the location of Moira. He asked the Dakota ranchman if he were sure it was in Wisconsin, or if it was in some other state. Attorney Scharton at once jumped to his feet and wanted to know what connection that question could possibly have to do with the identity of the claimant. "I do not assume that Mr. Nason is wasting time on irrelevant matters," stated the court. "If I thought he was I would cut him short."

Photographs of the handwriting, "from your mother," written on a sheet of paper, enclosed with what purported to be a lock of his mother's hair, which he received by mail while in the west, and of the same words written at the last trial by Mrs. Ruseau, who testified that Dakota Dan was her son "Jim," was shown to the witness again, showing the contention of the estate that the claimant is "Jim" Ruseau, a French Canadian.

Dakota Dan finally stated that he did remember of Mrs. Ruseau writing the specimen at the former trial. Dakota Dan claims that this lock of hair is a lock sent by Mrs. Daniel Russell of Malrose, who he claims was his mother. Dakota Dan declared that the reason he testified at the previous trial that he had not worked anywhere after he left school except for the Common Sense Fertilizer company was because his former counsel so instructed him, because he wanted him to spring the injured leg he received while working in the tea store upon his brother William before he mentioned it in court.

RAIN AIDS THE FIREMEN

Forest Fires Around Brockton Put Out

BROCKTON, Oct. 24.—The heavy dew of Tuesday night, followed yesterday by a light rain in the morning and a drizzle yesterday afternoon which turned into a heavy rain last night, has put an end to the forest and brush fires which have menaced the city for the past few days. Last night for the first time in a week, firemen were able to leave the stations and go to their homes for supper.

Yesterday there were three brush fires, the hardest one being on Alger street, where the fire spread across the East Bridgewater line and was fought on either side by the East Bridgewater and Brockton firemen. After two hours of hard work the flames were finally under control.

DREYFUSS TO STAND PAT

Pittsburgh Owner Satisfied With His Lineup

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24.—While there are rumors of changes in the New York club and while President Murphy of the Cubs is vowing to "can" a score or more of his veterans, the Pittsburgh club is laying back taking things easy, content with what it has to go on when another season opens up. President Dreyfuss and Secretary Locke are certain the present make-up is good enough to bank on; and the chances are that no more than one new man will be signed between now and reporting time next March.

No more pitchers will be sought after. The present hurling corps is the best in the business, and no experimenting will be indulged in. The catching department is one of the best and the infield is held to be O. K.

It may be that an effort will be made to secure a good man for center field, but even this is not certain. Manager Clarke will decide during the winter whether Hendrix will be shunted to the outer garden or not. Should Fred decide on this move, every hole in the team will have been plugged, it being taken for granted that Dittler is going to remain at second base and Miller at first.

The Pirates barnstormers each received a little less than $300 for their labors during the post-season games. This is over $200 per man more than the Phillies and Athletics received for the games played in Philadelphia. Everywhere the Pirates went they were well received and royalty treated.

IMPORTANT CHANGES
Are Expected in New England League

Before the start of the New England league season of 1913 important changes will be made in the league. Changes are expected in five clubs, or one-half of the league. Lynn, Haverhill, Fall River, New Bedford and Brockton will have new managers. New managements are also expected in some of these cities. Of the five cities, Fall River is the only one that gives any inkling that it may transfer its franchise elsewhere. Haverhill, Lynn, Brockton and New Bedford will stick. In Lynn, Frank J. Leonard is through and he will have no official connection with the team in 1913, according to the present dope, says the Lawrence Eagle-Tribune. If the present association continues in control a manager will be secured in Haverhill; new owners may assume control, although there is nothing authentic in any of the stories that have been published that the team is on the market. Eddie McLean will not be back in Brockton as manager, and Frank Connaughton will be succeeded by some other manager in New Bedford.

TO TALK IT OVER

Joe Tinker Calls on Pres. Hermann Relative to His New Job With the Reds

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Joe Tinker, who has been mentioned as the probable manager of the Cincinnati Reds, left yesterday for Cincinnati to confer with President Hermann relative to closing negotiations for the position. Since President Murphy has stated that he would not stand in the way of Tinker in the event of that player being offered a manager's berth, it looks as if the conference with Hermann would bind up Tinker as leader of the Reds.

FRANK CHANCE

May Succeed Roger Bresnahan as Leader of the St. Louis Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 24.—There is a strong rumor here that Frank Chance, the deposed manager of the Chicago Cubs, will succeed Roger Bresnahan, who was ousted by the Cardinal directors. Miller Huggins has been prominently mentioned for the local berth, but those on the inside claim that Chance is more strongly favored.

STEVE YERKES

To Be Tendered Banquet by Home Folks—Connie Mack Will Attend—Committee Notified

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—The baseball fans of Jenkintown and Haverhill will give Steve Yerkes, the second baseman of the world's champion Red Sox, a banquet at Moore's Inn, Haverhill, tomorrow evening. Yerkes was born in Haverhill and began his baseball career with the Jenkintown team.

Connie Mack, noted manager of the Athletics, has notified the committee in charge that he will attend the banquet, and says further that he will bring several of his team with him.

THE BASEBALL PLAYERS

Want Representation on National Commission

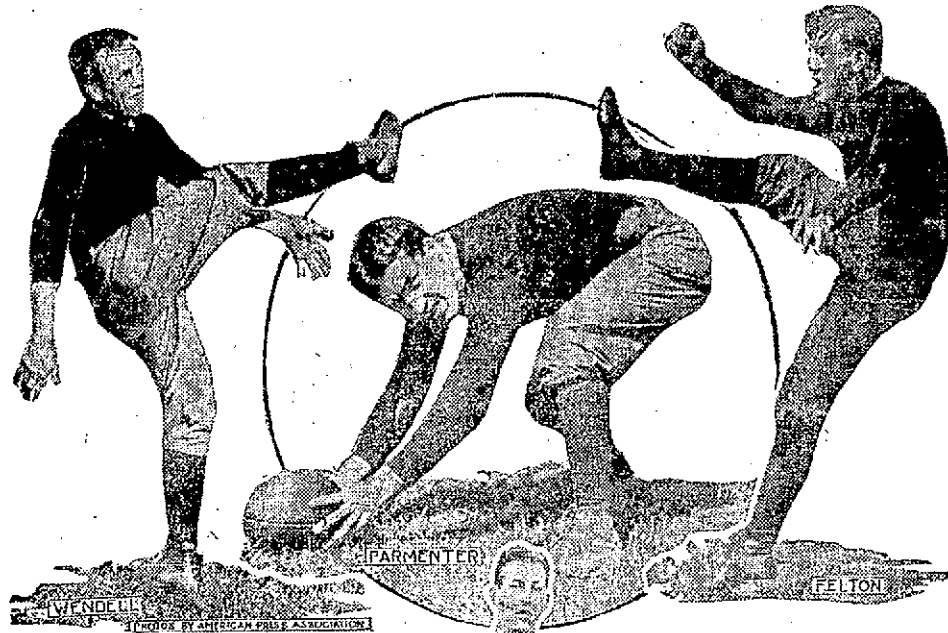

Success for the newly organized Players' Baseball association depends upon the policy adopted by the magnates, and, in turn, the policy adopted by the Players' Baseball association depends largely upon the men the players see fit to place at the head of the organization. If the right kind of men are placed in charge of the association it will surely be an aid to making the game cleaner and more enjoyable, while if the wrong kind are allowed to rule the organization will be in continued trouble with not only the magnates and managers, but with the players themselves.

There are grievances the ball players have against the clubs which the new association has a right to ask to be corrected, but there are also grievances against ball players that the clubs are justified in demanding. The present playing contract is inequitable for the player, and it can be modified without too much interfering with the hold clubs must have on their men, and the association is justified in demanding that such modifications be made. On the other hand, there is a class of players who demand everything and give as little as possible in return. In fact, they demand that clubs pay them high salaries when they are in such physical condition through their own fault as to be unable to do their work. If they are suspended or otherwise punished for their misdeeds and cause trouble in the club. It is up to the new association to see that the clubs are protected in such cases. It is also up to the new association to see that not only the clubs live up to their contracts, but that the players do likewise.

According to the reports given out as to the plans of the association, the organization intends to suppress rowdy conduct on the playing field, and this is well and good if by this is meant the suppression of offenses by the players as well as others. Unfortunately the preliminary sketch of plans for the organization goes on to mention that "ball players are temperamental under the stress of playing." If this means that the association is going to defend the player who uses vile and indecent language on the field to officials and with-in hearing of and to persons on the stand and give an excuse for the player should he given latitude in such matters it will find hostility, especially among the better class of fans. The habit of using profane and indecent language by players as soon as they get beyond earshot of the umpire, but within hearing of the stands, is all too frequent. There is also too much talking back to spectators when a player happens to be in a bad humor and thinks he can get away with it. On the reverse side of the case, the association has every right to demand that the ball clubs protect them from abuse at the hands of the spectators; also from the umpires, some of the latter getting away with not a little abuse toward ball players.

Another thing the players have a right to ask is that they be given representation on the national commission. In fact, the latter organization should be made up of five instead of three members. This would give both the players and minor leagues representation and make the body truly representative. Even under such an arrangement the major leagues would still have a majority on the board, as they should have. The commission is at present made up of the presidents of the two big leagues and a chairman, at this time Harry Herrmann, a major league magnate. The chairman should continue to be a major league man, and this would make the vote three to two in favor of the big leagues, but it would insure a more comprehensive and fairer consideration of the many matters that come before the commission for discussion.

One final danger the players' association has to face is what wrecked the previous one. This organization did not die because of opposition by the big league, but because of internal dissension. The players themselves fought over the objects of the association and how they were to be obtained right at the start. This resulted in a clique getting control. The latter used the body for its own benefit, and some of its members tried to use the organization as a club to obtain personal benefits. One of the members finally gambled away a good part of the money in the treasury, and the remainder was never satisfactorily accounted for. Toward the close members of the association on the inside were charging each other with using the "double cross." So the members of the present organization cannot be too careful in choosing broad minded men of known integrity as leaders.

Four Members of the Harvard Team Who Are Expected to Make Football History This Season

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 24.—Head Coach Percy Haughton predicts that Harvard will carry off the eastern football honors this season. He declares that this year's Crimson eleven is one of the best that ever represented Harvard on the gridiron. Crimson's next big game is with Brown Oct. 26. The Providence men will give a true line on the strength of the Harvard team. Brown has a heavier team than any of the others which Harvard has been up against this season. Brown ran up a score of 30 to 7 against Pennsylvania recently, which shows that it may be expected to keep Harvard from making a score nearly as high as that against Amherst. While Harvard has the po-light character. Capt. Wendell is again ready to play. Felton has been doing some great punting in practice. Haughton has selected Gardner as Harvard's regular quarterback. Parmenter has played a fine game at center in several games.

Carpentier Expected Here

If the plans of M. Francis Descamps, manager of Georges Carpentier, fistic idol of France, do not go awry, Georges will exhibit his paces before a New York club early in November.

There is a good deal of curiosity excited on this side of the water regarding Carpentier's prowess. He is beyond doubt the most sensational figure in glove sport, produced by his country since Frenchmen took up the rugged sport of fistfighting, having fought his way to the top of the heap with but one defeat registered against him.

Carpentier is only eighteen years of age and is said to be putting on weight rapidly, so much so that in the course of a few months it is probable that he will be compelled to seek opponents in the heavy division.

EVERS TO BE CUBS' BOSS

Star Second Baseman to Succeed Chance

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—John Evers, second baseman of the Chicago National league team, will be manager of the team next season, succeeding Frank Chance. This announcement was made by a friend of the player yesterday with a positiveness that carried conviction.

Evers himself declined to be quoted on the subject, and C. W. Murphy, president of the club, maintained the attitude of non-discussion which he has kept since his recent pronouncement that Chance would not be at the helm in 1913.

It was authoritatively announced that Evers would sign his contract as manager today.

The ceremony had been planned for yesterday, but members of the team are on a "barnstorming" trip and Murphy consented to the postponement to allow Evers to keep his engagement to a player. What terms the contract will carry could not be learned.

Evers' home is in Troy, N. Y. He came to the local National league team in 1902 and after a brief career as utility player, was made regular second baseman.

Chance, whom he is to succeed as manager, has been playing here since 1888. He signed as a catcher under A. C. Anson, became first baseman on the latter's retirement, and manager of the team in 1906, when the late Frank Selee gave up the post because of ill health.

THE BOXING COMMISSION

Wants to Fix a Standard of Weights

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—For the first time in the history of boxing in the United States an official attempt will be made by the New York state athletic commission to fix an international standard of weights for governing championship bouts in the various classes. The commission hopes to get its schedule recognized by the authorities governing the sport in England, France and Australia. The following weight scale drawn up by the New York commission is now on its way to the governing bodies in the three countries and is expected to receive their approval.

Paperweight, 108 pounds; bantamweight, 116 pounds; featherweight, 125 pounds; lightweight, 135 pounds; welterweight, 145 pounds; middleweight, 155 pounds; light heavyweight, 165 pounds; "commission" weight, 175 pounds; "light heavyweight" or "commission" weight, 175 pounds; heavyweight, 175 pounds and over.

The commission in fixing the scale also stipulated that the various weight limits should be made at the ringside. Ringside weighing has many opponents in this country and it is believed that a modification of this rule will be agreed upon later by the international bodies concerned.

The commission's schedule calls for a new class to include boxers too heavy to make 155 pounds ringside, yet too light to compete as full fledged heavyweights. The idea is to do away with contests in which a man weighing 165 pounds meets an opponent weighing 200 pounds or more. In addition to the weights program the commission has entered into an agreement with English, French and Australian promoters by which uniform rules and penalties will be mutually recognized.

BILL PAPKE THE WINNER

Carpentier Quit in the 17th Round

PARIS, Oct. 24.—Billy Papke, the middleweight boxer of Illinois, last night defeated the French champion, Georges Carpentier, who quit after the 17th round.

At the weighing-in at 3 o'clock in the afternoon Papke exceeded the middleweight limit, while Carpentier was under weight. The Frenchman's manager immediately claimed the title of middleweight champion. He said:

"The fight will proceed as arranged, but it will not be for the title, which now belongs to Carpentier."

"It was the hardest fight of my career," said Papke, after Carpentier, the idol of the French sporting public, threw up the sponge.

It was evident in the first few rounds that Carpentier was no match for Papke, whose lightning tactics completely baffled the Frenchman. But he fought with great pluck and determination. At the end of the eighth round Carpentier's right eye was closed. He fought warily after that and kept away from the American as much as possible.

In the 15th the Frenchman came back quite strong, and in both that round and the 16th gave a good account of himself. Papke opened the 17th with a terrific hook to the jaw, which practically finished the Frenchman.

Carpentier gamely got to his feet and managed to drag out the round, but obviously he was unable to continue and after a brief consultation with his seconds he gave up.

Papke receives $5000 for his end of the purse, with certain other emoluments. He had to pay a forfeit of $1000 to Carpentier for overweighing.

FOOTBALL BARRED

In Porto Rico Because the Game Proved to Be Too Strenuous—Knives Used by Natives

American football in Porto Rico is so strenuous that during the only two games ever played on the island it was necessary to call out the army to restore peace, declares Jimmy Johnson, a former Carlisle Indian football star and at present a practicing dentist in San Juan, Porto Rico.

Johnson, who is a graduate of the school at Carlisle and of the University of Pennsylvania, arrived at Carlisle this week after completing a tour of the United States in his automobile.

As a football quarterback Johnson was keenly interested in the success of the game in Porto Rico. Two teams were formed, one comprising former United States soldiers, who were coached by Hooker, once famous captain of West Point, and the other team, composed of native Porto Ricans, mostly graduates of schools in this country.

The first game was a big success and was won by the natives. It was in the second contest that the trouble started. The score was in favor of the "foreigners," and the natives couldn't stand the situation.

"One of the Porto Ricans drew a knife," said Johnson, "and members of his team did likewise."

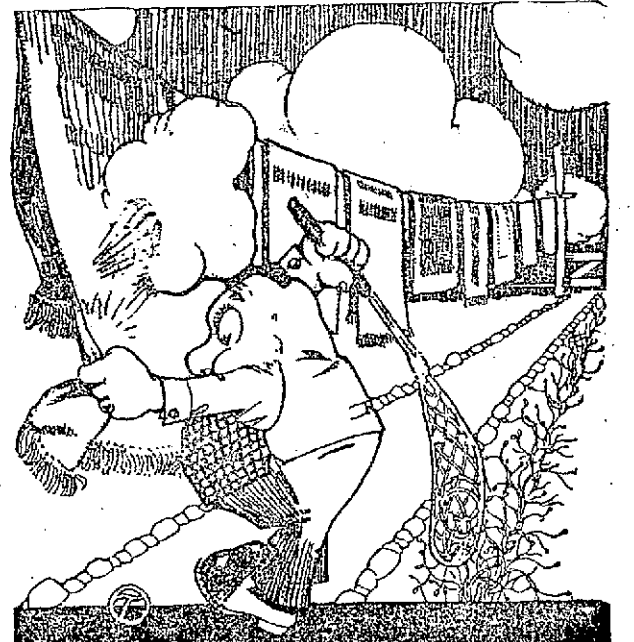

"Undaunted by this action, the Americans stood their ground and a terrific battle ensued. The regular army had to be called into service, and it was only after considerable clubbing that the riot was subdued. This put the damper on football on the island, and there hasn't been a game since."

CHARGE OF HOCUS POCUS MADE

Lehigh Valley Coal Deal Attacked and the Sales Company Was Condemned

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The Lehigh Valley was accused in the commerce court yesterday of trying to hocus pocus the United States government and the interstate commerce commission, so as to save itself and other hard coal carrying roads from reducing rates from the Wyoming, Pa., fields to Perth Amboy on coal intended for trans-shipment to New York and New England.

The accusation was made by Blackburn Esterline, assistant to Atty. Gen. Wickes, who moved to dismiss the Lehigh's petition for an injunction against the commission.

The move said to mislead and deceive consists of the organization of the Lehigh Valley Coal Sales company and the sale to it of the coal mined by the Lehigh Valley Coal company before it is loaded into the Lehigh Valley Railroad company's cars.

The railroad and the coal companies were parties in the complaint brought by Henry Meeker, in which he alleged that the railroad company charged excessive rates for carrying coal to Perth Amboy for shipment by water.

The commission ordered the rates reduced and awarded reparation to Meeker amounting to about $200,000. That order was made more than a year ago. The railroad company and its coal company asked for a temporary injunction, but the court denied it. Then the railroad and coal companies withdrew their suit.

Yesterday they appeared in court asking for an injunction on the ground that the Lehigh Valley Coal company is no longer a shipper over the Lehigh Valley railroad and is no longer receiving what the commission called a rebate, consisting of the free use of more than $10,000,000 loaned to it by the railroad company which owned all its stock.

The petition says the coal company sells its property to the Coal Sales company "in which neither the railroad company nor the coal company has interest whatsoever." It also asserts that the coal company has paid back money it borrowed from the railroad company and cannot therefore be receiving what the commission called a rebate, on account of which the commission decided that the railroad company could afford to carry coal at a lower rate.

Esterline asserted that such a shifting of ground had never before been attempted by any litigant in any court with which he had had experience, and he submitted that the railroad company and its coal company should not be permitted to defeat the order of the commission with any such subterfuge as the organization of the Lehigh Valley Coal Sales company and the claim that the Lehigh has no interest in it.

W. A. Glasgow, attorney for Meeker, argued that if the court permitted itself to be hoodwinked in such a patent manner as that the case, which has already been before the commission and the courts for five years, will drag along for many more years, and that many more than that he would not like to prophesy.

All the coal carrying roads are interested in the matter. If the Lehigh is able to put off the period of lower rates for itself, the rates of the other carriers will also remain up at the high level they now occupy.

FLAW IN INDICTMENT

Cotton Corner Bill in the Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Admissions of defects in the indictments of James Patten, Eugene Schales, Frank D. Hayne, and William E. Brown, on charges of conspiracy to run a $10,000,000 corner on cotton in 1910 on the New York cotton exchange, in violation of the Sherman antitrust law, were made in the supreme court of the United States yesterday by solicitor General Bullitt for the government.

The occasion was the second argument over the indictment, the court not being willing to decide last spring the correctness of the decision of the New York federal court in quashing several vital counts.

The New York federal court had barely stated to the court that the question in the case was the decision of the lower court that the Sherman antitrust law did not prohibit the "running of a corner" before Chief Justice White suggested that he would be pleased to have the government at some time define just what it meant by a "corner."

Mr. Bullitt responded it was a combination among dealers in a commodity or of various capitalists for the purpose of buying up the greater portion of the commodity and holding it back from sale until the demand so far outran the limited supply as to advance the price abnormally.

"Now, I want you to show how the indictment fits that definition," added the chief justice.

That led the solicitor general to announce that he abandoned the third count of the indictment, because the lower court found there was no charge in it that the defendants were to hold back the cotton from sale and consequently charged.

"Getting right down to brass tacks," declared Mr. Bullitt, "I frankly admit that of the other counts the seventh has one defect. There is no express statement in it that the combination was created to withhold from the market the cotton bought."

The solicitor general said that in dealing with this defect the government advanced two arguments. One was that the lower court construed the count to charge the running of a corner and the supreme court could do nothing now. But accept that interpretation; nevertheless it might have the power to examine the interpretation if there were a conviction and an appeal.

The second argument, Mr. Bullitt said, was that the government had used the word "corner" in the count and everybody in the world knew that a corner included a withholding from sale.

Justice Van de Venter suggested that the man who drafted the indictment did not have that in mind, perhaps, for immediately after the word "corner" he had defined the term, without including a charge of withholding from sale.

Finally Mr. Bullitt admitted that if neither one of these arguments was acceptable the government had no case. Ex-Senator John C. Spooner will be heard today in defense of the accused.

DISCUSSED CHARITIES

Massachusetts Conference at Haverhill

HAVERHILL, Oct. 24.—The ninth annual session of the Massachusetts conference of charities was opened last evening at city hall with 200 delegates present from all parts of the state. There was an audience of 500 people interested in local charitable organizations and the work of the state organization.

The 50 delegates who arrived yesterday afternoon were given a 30-mile auto trip through Writierland, the 18 machines loaned by Haverhill citizens making the trip down the south side of the Merrimack and returning on the north side.

A stop was made at the Whittier home in Amesbury and later at the Oldplace of the poet in the east parish. The delegates were presented with souvenir leaflets compiled by Alderman Albert L. Barnhart of this city.

A child welfare exhibit is also being held in connection with the conference, the exhibits being arranged about city hall. Among the exhibitors were various local charities.

The session last night was opened by Alderman Barnhart as the chairman of the Haverhill committee, and prayer was offered by Rev. George H. Hubbard, pastor of the Union Congregational church. The formal welcome was extended by Alderman Ralph D. Hood, supervisor of the poor department.

Dr. Walter E. Fernald, superintendent of the school for Feeble Minded at Waverly served as chairman of the conference on defects. The other speakers were Dr. E. L. Southard of the state board of insanity and Dr. Geo. L. Wallace superintendent of the state school at Wrentham.

The conference will continue today and Friday. The local committee in charge consists of Alderman A. L. Bartlett, Dr. F. W. Anthony, John E. Maguire, Mrs. Walter C. Lewis, Mrs. T. Wallace Allen, Mrs. A. M. Hubbell, Mrs. Merrill, John B. Parker, Rev. Nichols Vander Pyl, Rev. Levi M. Powers, Rev. A. J. DeGillshire, Mrs. Frank S. Hamlin and Mrs. Elmer Williams.

REPORT IS CONFIRMED

More Than $1,000,000 Taken From Vaults

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—Reports current in Philadelphia for more than a year that the Union Trust company had been robbed of $1,000,000 in securities and $30,000 in cash by an employee, were confirmed yesterday, when Gov. John K. Tener decided that so far as the state is concerned, Walter H. Shourds, who is accused of appropriating the money and securities, must be prosecuted, although restitution has been made to the trust company. The company is now known as the Merchants' Union Trust company.

The securities, it is said, were taken from a safe deposit box rented by George Burnham, Jr., who is connected with a big locomotive works in this city. Shourds is a fugitive from justice but it is said that in view of restitution having been made, the trust company would not press the prosecution.

A state law, however, demands that the commonwealth prosecute all such cases and it is expected that Dist. Atty. Rolan, if Shourds is located, will bring him to trial as he has already been indicted.

Shourds, who was superintendent of safe deposit vaults of the trust company, fled the country shortly before the crime was discovered. It is reported that he opened communication for the return of the securities and the money through "personals" inserted in New York, Philadelphia and Paris newspapers.

MARCH TO STATEHOUSE

The Progressives Decide on This Program

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—The Boston city committee of the progressive party was organized last evening in Kinsley Hall, Ford building, at a meeting which lacked nearly all of the characteristics of such political gatherings, and at which "practical politics" was ignored. There was plenty of spontaneity and enthusiasm, and all nominations were made from the floor. Among the 200 present were several women, one of whom was elected on the committee.

First there was a dinner, with some of the prominent progressives seated at the head table. Among these were Matthew Hale, who was obliged to leave before the meeting began.

He made a brief address before going in which he said he wanted to impress on everybody the fact that the Bull Moose party was going to take progressives from the democrats as well as from the republicans. He said that if the progressive democrats had somebody like Col. Roosevelt to lead them at Baltimore, they, too, would have bolted.

After the city committee had been organized there were speeches by the nominee for lieutenant governor, Daniel Cosgrove; the candidate for senator in the first Suffolk district, Arthur M. Huddell; the candidate for congress in the 10th, Daniel T. Callahan, and Joseph Langley of ward 8.

Great enthusiasm was aroused by a resolve which was passed, calling for "the city committee and progressives of all parties" to join in a parade from the progressive headquarters tomorrow noon and march to the headquarters of the republican and democratic state committees and then to Gov. Foss at the state house and demand that a special session of the legislature be called to vote on the question of submitting the choice of a candidate for United States senator to the people.

There was also great enthusiasm when it was announced that Bancroft Abbott had arranged a rally—largely at his own expense—in Symphony hall next Tuesday evening at which Bourke Cockran of New York was to be the principal speaker.

Officers Say Donahue Admitted Murder

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—For a period of about two hours last night, Cornelius Donahue, aged 29, living in the rear of 1287 Washington street, charged with the murder of his aged mother, Mrs. Ellen Donahue, was questioned in the office of Capt. John E. Driscoll at the East Dedham street station. Those present were Inspector Silas P. Watte of police headquarters, Patrolman Sullivan of the station named and a stenographer.

The prisoner did not evince the least sign of emotion in telling the story of his acts.

The woman was found dead in the rear of 1287 Washington street about 3:30 yesterday morning. A short time afterward her son Cornelius was arrested.

The prisoner, his inquisitors say, stated he was employed as a street cleaner in the West End yard, that about two weeks ago he quit work because of ill health and that during that time he had drunk heavily.

On Tuesday evening, the night previous to the murder, Donahue, according to the police, said that he went to bed about 11 o'clock under the influence of liquor.

About 7 o'clock yesterday morning Donahue, the police say, stated that he awakened and then aroused his mother, demanding that she give him his bankbook.

Mrs. Donahue refused to give the book and Donahue stated, the police say, that he slapped the woman twice on the face and then put his knees upon her chest, later grabbing her by the throat and holding her for about 15 minutes until she was black in the face, shortly after leaving the house with the bankbook.

The statement goes on to relate that Donahue went to the bank and drew $5 and went to a saloon and had a few drinks. Staggering across the street and meeting Rep. J. E. McGovern of ward 16, the accused, it is said, told the latter that he had killed his mother.

KNIGHTS OF EQUITY HELD PARTY

Pretty Event Attracted a Large Audience to Associate Hall

One of the prettiest parties of the season was held last night at Associate hall under the auspices of the Knights of Equity. The affair was one of the famous annual autumn parties of this popular organization and proved very successful despite the inclement weather.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Previous to the dancing a very enjoyable concert was rendered by Sheehan's orchestra and local talent. The concert numbers were as follows:

March..... Orchestra
Song, selected, Mr. John Roane.
Piano selection, Mr. John Broderick.
Song, selected, Mr. Charles Carey.
Violin solo, Mr. J. Lee.
Reading, Mr. Frank Carey.
Song, selected, Mr. Raymond Chappelle.
Song, selected, Mr. James E. Donnelly.

"Pape's Diapepsin" settles
sour, upset stomachs in 5 minutes

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly? Ferment into stomach lumps and cause a sick, sour, messy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic get this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There is never anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. Diapepsin is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach—distress, gas, flatulency—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your heads clear and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made by getting a large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

THE FIFTH ANNIVERSARY Of the Steam Engineers

Local was Observed

Local No. 352 of the International Union of Steam Engineers and Local No. 14 of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen, held a joint smoke talk and entertainment in the hall at 71 Central street last night, the occasion being the fifth anniversary of the organization of the local of the steam engineers. There was a large attendance despite the unfavorable weather, about 200 being present.

There were a number of state and local officers present who delivered short but interesting and instructive addresses. Three of the commissioners of the municipal council and Mayor James E. O'Donnell were present during the evening and contributed to the program.

During the evening smoking was enjoyed and refreshments were served. The entire evening's entertainment was well received and greatly appreciated by those present.

William E. Kenefick, chairman of the joint committee on arrangements, presided and introduced the various speakers.

Among those who spoke were: President William McElroy of Local No. 352 of the International Union of Steam Engineers; President John T. Hendricks of Local No. 14 of the International Brotherhood of Firemen; Commissioner James E. Donnelly, who made a brief address, sang Scotch songs and gave a recitation; President Thomas B. Constant of Boston.

WILLIAM E. KENEFICK

president of the Massachusetts branch of the International Union of Steam Engineers; Joseph A. Nash of Boston, business agent of Local No. 15, of Boston and vice president of the state branch of the International Union of Steam Engineers; Mayor James E. O'Donnell, Commissioner Lawrence Cummings, President Timothy O'Rourke of the Trades and Labor Council, Commissioner Andrew E. Barrett, Owen Stanniford of Lawrence, vice president of Local No. 515, of the International Union of Steam Engineers; Charles E. Anderson, secretary of the Trades and Labor Council; John W. Downing, secretary of Local No. 352, of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen; John McFadden, organizer of Local No. 352, and Michael Ryan, the vice president. Mr. Mutter, also of Local No. 352, sang several Scotch songs, in imitation of Harry Lauder, and played several solos on the flute. Jack Dalton, of Local No. 14, International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen, gave several songs as did also Daniel Tuohy of the International Union of Steam Engineers, Local No. 352.

The joint committee from the brotherhood of firemen and from the union of engineers was as follows: William E. Kenefick, chairman; Albra W. Hirsome, secretary; William McElroy and Michael Ryan, all of the engineers, and John T. Hendricks, John W. Downing, Donald McKean and Michael J. Connelley of the firemen.

FILENE ANSWERS WANAMAKER

The republicans have made a campaign document of the letter of John Wanamaker pleading for the election of President Taft, but Wanamaker's letter has been very ably answered and the fallacy of its reasoning exposed by Mr. E. A. Filene, the merchant prince of Boston. Mr. Filene insists that there can be no business prosperity without stability and that there can be no stability under the vacillating administration of President Taft. In fact, Mr. Filene states as his positive opinion that the one thing likely to prevent the setting in of a great period of prosperity would be the re-election of President Taft, while the thing that would make prosperity more certain would be the election of Gov. Wilson. His reason for making this contrast is, that stability would come with the election of Wilson and instability with that of Taft.

Mr. Filene shows that the reform which is demanded by the people all over this country and the contest for which has split the republican party in two, cannot come if President Taft be elected because he has repeatedly vetoed the very measures which the people want and which will inevitably come if Wilson be elected. Mr. Filene flatly contradicts the statement of Mr. Wanamaker that a republican administration insures prosperity. In proof of this he cites the hard times of 1893 which started under the McKinley administration in 1890 and 1891. He also refers to the republican panic of 1907 as a result of republican tariff laws. In reference to what is known as the "silent government," Mr. Filene refers to the compact group of financiers who control the large banks and the credit of the country. These men, he said, will be placed under proper restraint if Governor Wilson be elected, as he alone among the candidates is pledged to legislation which will prevent such financial confederacies as now control the business and credit of the nation. Mr. Filene, it seems, has much the better of the argument as Wanamaker's letter merely rehearsed the old-time republican claim that prosperity must follow republican rule and hard times and panic democratic rule.

PATRIOTISM OF LAWRENCE ASSERTED

There is a great deal of comment in the press of the country in regard to the city of Lawrence and its outlook for the future. We are glad to note that the city is rising triumphant over a situation that seemed to threaten its industrial future. The patriotism of the people of Lawrence has been asserted and will be asserted to overthrow any attempt to ruin the industrial standing of the municipality by revolutionary leaders posing as the friends of labor.

While the patriotic citizens of Lawrence were honoring the flag and condemning the society that flaunted the anarchistic emblem on the public streets, the leaders of this faction were diligently circulating literature of the worst kind attacking the city of Lawrence, the municipal authorities, the flag and even the constitution of the United States. The circulars thus issued show that the men who prepared them are well educated and well trained in this particular line of work. These are the men responsible for leading their dupes into violations of law and attacks upon the American flag. They are endeavoring to destroy the industries in which they were employed. The city would be well rid of operatives who persist in pursuing this policy towards the textile factories. But if the professional leaders were driven out, we believe the rank and file would attend to their business without any further attempt to make trouble. After the trial of Etor and that of President Wood, we expect that Lawrence will see a period of better times and absolute industrial peace.

SALEM WANTS A NEW CHARTER

The city of Salem is going through the preliminary experience of adopting a new charter. The commission form of charter is, we believe, that mainly under consideration, and it is probable that some modification of this form of charter will be adopted. It would be refreshing to find some city with originality enough to frame a charter of a different character and yet abolish the old bicameral system that produced so many deadlocks and other forms of delay in the transaction of public business. There are some people who after living under the commission form of government for a few years, aver that the commission of five members is too small. How to overcome this defect is a problem that may seriously engage the friends of municipal reform in future years. We understand that some cities in the northwest have evolved a charter providing for a council of twelve, the functions of which are to recommend and supervise the acts of the executive council of five. It is claimed that the advantage of this dual council is that no important action can be independently taken by a mere majority of the council of five. That in itself is a protection against corruption that may be found necessary if it should happen that the small commission proves dishonest.

TO IMPROVE POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS

In his address at the democratic rally on Tuesday evening Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan stated that if elected to congress one of the things that would occupy his attention would be a change in the management of postal savings banks so that the money would be retained in the locality in which it is deposited and loaned out for the benefit of local industries or to help farmers or those who wished to secure a loan for building purposes. At the present time the rate of interest paid by the postal savings banks is but two per cent, whereas the ordinary savings bank pays 3 1/2 or 4 per cent. The latter also loan the money for building and other purposes in the districts in which they are located. Thus the locality is benefited. Mr. O'Sullivan's idea is a good one, although it would not be of as much service in Lowell as to some other places because the deposits in the postal savings bank in Lowell are not very large.

MAYOR LUNN'S NOTORIETY

Mayor Lunn of Schenectady, N. Y., is getting a great deal of notoriety out of his recent arrest for making a speech in a public park. The police of the town in which he was arrested hold that he was speaking without a permit, which, according to the regulations of the place, he should have secured. This is an old dodge with some itinerant orators, who, after being arrested, try to make it appear that they are being victimized and denied the right of free speech. The fact is, that if a city or town has any regulation providing that a speaker must secure a permit from the local authorities before he can deliver an address on a public street or in a public park, he should be obliged to comply with the rule or pay the penalty. It is all nonsense to claim that the enforcement of any such law is an infringement of the right of free speech.

JACK JOHNSON'S CASE

Jack Johnson has got himself into serious trouble in Chicago as a result of his attempt to get possession of a young white girl in face of the opposition of her parents. The Chicago authorities have already taken action on the matter while his case is before the grand jury and the upshot may be that Johnson will be landed in jail while the Chicago authorities may drive him out of the city. The fact that he is champion pugilist of the world will not shield him from the consequence of his acts when he becomes a moral monster and a scandal to the community.

THE COLONEL AT HOME

Everybody will now rejoice that Col. Roosevelt is home again and that he is rapidly recovering from the effects of his wound. Some of the papers supporting him are lavish in their praise of the equanimity he has shown under the trying circumstances of the last two weeks. But Roosevelt in the hospital at Chicago did more for his campaign than he could have done on the stump. This was a case in which the attempt to defeat him worked to his advantage.

Seen and Heard

From the experience of Officer O'Brien of the local police force it is evident that there are cities whose inhabitants place a higher value on "The Sun" than do the citizens of Lowell. Mr. O'Brien recently spent part of his vacation in Atlantic City, and while enjoying a stroll on the board walk he chanced upon a man selling papers who in foggy tones advertised that he would sell "your own town paper." The Lowell police officer asked for a copy of "The Sun," and the energetic salesman, whose stock was almost as large as himself, drew forth the paper in question for which Mr. O'Brien paid the sum of eight cents. Officer O'Brien said that he also had an opportunity of reading his "home town paper" in the library at Washington, D.C., where he found a copy on file.

INSPIRATION IN FRIENDSHIP

The water placed in goblet, bowl or cup. Changes its form to each receptacle. And so our plastic souls take various shapes. And characters of good or ill, to fit the good or evil in the friends we choose. Therefore be ever careful in your choice of friends. And in your special love be given to those. Whose strength of character may be the whip That drives you ever on to wisdom's goal. —Emperor of Japan.

Prison missionary—Ah, you have a pet, I see. Convict—Yes, this rat. I feeds him every day. I think more of that "rat" than any other livin' creature. Missionary—Ah, in every man there's something of the angel, but of one can only find it. How came you to take such a fancy to that rat? Convict—He bit th' keeper. —New York Weekly.

TOMORROW

My friend, have you heard of the town of Now, On the banks of the River Slow. Where blooms the Wait-a-while flower fair, And the Some-time-or-other scents the air, And the soft Go-easy's grow? It lies in the valley of What's-the-use, In the province of Let-her-slide. That "old tired feeling" is native there— It's the home of the listless I-don't-care. Where the Pat-it-offs abide. —The Searchlight.

"The processes of ratiocination of the human animal is something devious," philosophized Bob Woolley, once a prominent newspaper correspondent in Washington, but now reformed and living on his amateur farm in Fairfax, where he divides his time between writing for the magazines and raising an occasional can of tomatoes. "As I traversed the car at the Fairfax terminus today the conductor splat a tortoise I was bringing in to Washington to a small boy. 'No dogs allowed on the car, sir,' he politely objected. 'But this isn't a dog,' I protested. 'It's a tortoise.' 'Well, I'll have to ask the office about it,' he finally decided, and disappeared into the telephone booth. 'It's all right, Mr. Woolley,' he said, emerging a few minutes later and ringing the startling signal, 'cats is dogs, and rabbits is dogs, but a tortoise is a insect.' —Washington Times.

THISTLE CLUB PLAY

"Willowdale" Was Presented by Amateurs

The cleverly constructed three-act play, "Willowdale," was presented last evening by the Thistle club, a well known amateur dramatic organization, and the First Presbyterian church, in the vestry, and the production was enjoyed by a large sized audience.

The piece was given under the direction of Mrs. Thomas E. Wilde, and the actors performed their parts exceedingly well. "Willowdale" is a pleasing combination of humorous situations and serious scenes, and the performance last evening was characterized by excellent stage management and scenic arrangements. The characters called for by the cast were well portrayed by the members, and the costumes were no small feature of the evening's entertainment.

Harry Leavitt, as a dishonest lawyer, was remarkably good and Miss Mabel Melloy did very well in the part of the heroine. All those who took part are deserving of great commendation for the admirable way in which they entered into the spirit of the thing and made the event a success. The cast and synopsis were as follows:

Joel Bassett, postmaster and store-keeper. Robert Caddell, Tom Skerritt, the accused. George Love, Joseph Godfrey, a lawyer, ambitious and unscrupulous. Harry Leavitt, Clarence Dinsmore, the school teacher. James Campbell, Rev. Mr. Prosser, the minister. Leslie Field, Leni Hackett, leader of the choir and impersonator of a detective. Harry Joseph, Simon Pinner, who would rather whittle than work. David Caddell, Millie Bassett, a child of fate. Mabelle Malloy, Mrs. Bassett, Joel's wife, inclined to lay her own way. Minnie Tucker, Rosette Gates, a bit flighty, but a true friend. Blanche Kelly, Miss Lacey, who imagines things. Susanne Wilds, Oleander, the "help" who thinks life is a joke. Mae Field, Synopsis: Act 1—Interior of the Willowdale postoffice, and Joel Bassett's store on an afternoon in September. The accusation. Act 2—Sitting room of the Bassett house, the evening of the church social, the following week. The engagement. Act 3—The same as Act 2, one month later. The wedding.

Between the acts there were popular songs by Miss Louisiana Johnson and John Y. Myers which were well received and heartily enjoyed.

HELD BARN DANCE

Oakland Canoe Club Conducted Novel Affair at the Factory of J. G. Wood Last Evening

The factory of J. G. Wood at 400 East Merrimack street was the scene of a genuine old-fashioned barn dance last evening under the auspices of the Oakland Canoe club. The interior decorations of Japanese lanterns, branches of autumn leaves and large sheets of corn contributed to the scene of the event a very attractive appearance. The factory itself is an ideal place for the holding of such a dance.

The guests of the evening came to the affair attired in rural costume, and this added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. McCarthy's orchestra furnished the music. The committee in charge of the dance comprised: Henry Wood, chairman; William Wood, Francis Haggerty, William Haggerty, George Pendergast, John Pendergast, Harold Corson, Joseph Curtin and Alphonse Barriere.

LYCEUM COURSE OPENED

With Concert by Thompson Jubilee Singers

The first of the lyceum course of six concerts was given at the Worthen St. Baptist church last evening and, notwithstanding the disagreeable weather, there was a large attendance.

Last evening's entertainment was provided by the Thompson Jubilee Singers, and the program was one that appealed to all. The company consisted of four men and two women, all colored, who rendered selections, that, while written many years ago, will never grow old. The audience was carried down south, to the days before the war, by the rendition of the popular negro melodies.

Every number was enthusiastically received, and all were obliged to respond to encores. The singers possess excellent voices and they used them to good advantage. Especially good were the choruses, where the harmonious voices of the singers blended exquisitely. The solo numbers were most pleasing, and in all the concert was one of the best of its kind ever held in this city. The success scored by the Jubilee Singers reflects great credit on the company, as well as the committee under whose auspices the entertainment was given. Five more concerts will be given, and taking last night's program as a criterion the others will be worthy of attendance in large numbers of the local lovers of good music.

The complete program was as follows:

Opening chorus, Company. Baritone solo, "Live Humbly," Mr. Board. Plantation shout, "That's a Jubilee," Mr. Thomas and the Company. Southern melody, "Ding Dong Bell," Mr. Board. Revival song, "Battle of Jericho," Mr. Sissle. Negro hymn, "A Little Wheel A-rolling in My Heart," Miss Barry. Negro melody, "Rollin' and Rockin' Them in A Arms," Mr. Thomas and Company. Song, "Annie Laurie," Mr. Board. Revival song, "Marching to Hallelujah," Company. INTERMISSION. Song, "Swanee River," Miss Barry. Recitation, "Let It Alone," Mr. Sissle. Cornet solo, Selected. Mrs. Board. Bass solo, "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," Mr. Thomas. Quartet, "My Love," Messrs. Thomas, Board, Noble, Sissle. Finale chorus, "Good-Night," Company. Accompanist, Mr. Noble.

SIX YEAR OLD TRAVELER

Comes From Kansas

City to Boston

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—A lone little traveler arrived in Boston from Kansas City last night. She is Ethel Miller, 4 years of age, and is now at the home of her aunt, Mrs. David Waters, 1035 Harrison avenue, Roxbury, who intends to adopt the fair-haired, blue-eyed little miss.

A pathetic incident in connection with the child's arrival here is that her uncle, who had made all the arrangements for adopting Ethel when her mother died two months ago, because he never had a girl of his own, although blessed with six sons, died Monday and was buried at Mt. Hope while the little traveler was on her way to Boston.

Her first cousin, Solomon Waters, and Mrs. David Winthrop of 99 Hampden street, another aunt, met the train at the North station, where it arrived last night at 8.40. "Where is my Uncle David?" was the first query put by the child to Mrs. Winthrop, who at one time lived in Kansas City and easily recognized little Ethel.

On the trip to this city Ethel was the special charge of the conductor, and when the excitement of her arrival at the home of her adoption had worn off she prattled about dinners on the train and other luxuries bestowed upon her by the passengers who individually "looked out for her." Mrs. Waters, fearing the child would be lonesome, had a number of her relatives at the Harrison avenue house to welcome her.

Although she was somewhat shy, little Miss Miller admitted to a reporter that she was a bit lonesome for her papa and four brothers and sisters in Kansas City.

Local Passenger Agent W. H. Spears of the Nickel Plate road met and boarded the train upon which Ethel was traveling 20 miles out of Boston and gave the child to her waiting relatives when the train arrived in Boston.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Echo lodge, No. 44, N. E. O. P., was held last night and there was a large attendance despite the inclement weather. Considerable routine business was transacted during the meeting after which an entertainment program was carried out. There were readings by Sisters Agnes C. Porter and Marguerite McLaren. At the next meeting, the 25th anniversary of the lodge will be celebrated. Extensive preparations are already in progress for its celebration and it is expected that there will be a large attendance.

FRANK CHANCE'S OFFICE
Ready to Play With C
cago for $1200

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Frank Chance, after declaring that Johnny Evers was his very best wishes as manager of the Chicago National league team made the surprising statement that he would such his signature to any kind of contract President Murphy would sign, even though it called for more than $1200 and that he would resign from the club and try for a place on the team.

"I don't care about the money," Chance, "I am giving my word that if President Murphy offers me a contract I will sign it."

but that of manager I will sign it. I will come back, go on the training track, work as hard as any raw recruit to gain a place on the team. I say I will sign a $1200 contract, although right at the present time I am turning down an offer for $18,000 a season which hinges on the condition that I get my release from Murdoch.

"If Murphy doesn't offer me a contract at all I understand I will be a free agent by March 1. That, of course, will be too late to sign with any club as manager, so I guess I have the say as to whether I play next year.

"I have more money now than I thought was in the world for me."

thought was in the world for me I began playing baseball. I have need for the rest of my life and that reason can afford to play for figure I say."

DENOUNCES WORK OF I. W. W.

John Golden's Views on the Lawrence Strike Submitted to Textile Workers

"Some of the I. W. W. leaders have reaped a rich harvest and are living in riotous debauchery in Lawrence while thousands of people are in want."

"These leaders of the I. W. W. are just masters in the art of securing funds. Within a few days after the stoppage of the mills a very cleverly written appeal was sent broadcast through the country absolutely concealing the fact that it emanated from I. W. W. sources and signed simply Joseph Bedard, secretary strike committee, Textile Workers. This circular was so skillfully drawn that it fooled the public into the belief that this so-called strike committee was a genuine product of the regular trade union movement."

— John Golden.

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—General President John Golden made a special report on the Lawrence strike at the international convention of the United Textile Workers' union at Lawrence Encampment hall yesterday. "Many valuable object lessons can be drawn from the Lawrence uprising," he declared.

"The people of the country have been untrained to the conditions surrounding the textile industry, the miserable wages paid and the long hours worked by the men, women and children employed by this highly tariff protected industry; highly protected they tell us in order to keep up the American standard of wages—God save the mark!"

"Many employers have had a rapid education as to the difference in dealing with the same conservative leaders of the regular trade union movement under the American Federation of Labor and the wild-eyed inflammatory demagogues representing the Industrial Workers of the World; from now on they may make up their minds they are going to deal with one or the other."

Evils of Immigration

"Another valuable lesson to be seriously considered by the people of this country is the apparently unrestricted immigration of hundreds of thousands of all classes of immigrants into this country without the slightest regard as to how, why or where they came, or where they are to go."

"Far be it from me to even suggest that a single man should be valued against man, woman or child whose desire or ambition is to come to this great land of promise and opportunity, more particularly those whose desire is to escape from the tyranny of some monarch-ridden country."

"The happenings in Lawrence, however, must have fully convinced even the most skeptical that something must be done and done quickly to safeguard our American institutions and protect our wage workers from further exploitation at the hands of the employer who is willing to incur Europe in order to secure cheap labor."

Struggle Worth While

"He referred in scathing terms to the 'No God, No Master' banners and flags of anarchy, banners of the Lawrence uprising and declared that the textile union had never relaxed its endeavors to make the true situation known of all men; urging that if results are slow in arriving, the long struggle against non-human, low wages and inhuman conditions would be worth while."

"He reviewed the legislative attempts to bring about a settlement, pointing out that the committee had not sought the advice of trade union representatives, but had virtually compelled a settlement through the I. W. W. leaders; although he said one woman in Lawrence had practically conceded the terms desired by the Textile union."

President Golden also reviewed the steps leading up to the Lawrence strike, particularly the statutory reduction in the hours of labor, followed by the employers' proportionate reduction of the pay, which action was held to have precipitated the strike.

"The mills of Lawrence," he said, "have within the last five years been filled up with a large foreign element representing almost every nationality from Southern Europe. Many of these foreigners, who had been brought to this country, believed they were coming to a modern Eldorado, led to this supposed to have been gained by the advocates of syndicalism, sabotage and direct action."

Speaking of the I. W. W. promises that the release of all who have been arrested, could be secured by further agitation, he continued:

"The poor, deluded foreigners, unacquainted with our American custom, believed all this and for a time were induced to continue the struggle, and acting under the advice of their alleged leaders resorted to every possible method in order to keep what was at this time a large majority of the employees from returning to work."

He declared the ultimate return of the foreigners to work was due to their discovery that they had been deceived.

Efforts Toward Organization

A phase discussed in great detail by Mr. Golden was the progress of organization among these foreigners, contrasting the efforts of the Textile union and the I. W. W. The work also of the Lawrence Trade Union league, the Lawrence C. L. U. and of the New England Civic Federation was highly commended.

Many delegates asked questions after the address, and one asked: "Tell us about the dynamite planting there."

President Golden answered that all he knew had been learned through the newspapers and the legal proceedings, and that the delegates were certainly read those reports as thoroughly as he had himself and could form their own convictions.

Mrs. Sara A. Conboy of Boston, who had personally directed the Lawrence relief work, made a report of the receipts and expenditures. The figures were not made public as they are to also be made at the next meeting of the Lawrence C. L. U., which co-operated in the work.

It was explained the United Textile Workers' committee had assumed full responsibility and the executive board had guaranteed funds in advance of any donations. A vote of thanks was given to all who assisted.

At the morning session it was decided to conduct a campaign to organize Polish workers in every centric, and to the delegates was appointed Secretary Hibbert will be appointed for headquarters work.

The work of Mrs. Conboy in Pennsylvania was endorsed and she was directed to continue it with additional help, especially in the silk mill districts where many new unions have recently been organized by her.

Gen. Pres. John F. Tobin of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union spoke on general labor matters and the advantage of high dues and good benefits. The A. F. of L. will be asked to co-operate in an investigation of the police activities in Thompsonville, Conn., where, it is alleged, General Organizer Charles A. Myles of the union has been twice assaulted.

THE RAILROAD BOARD

To Hear Petition for a Track Extension

The board of railroad commissioners will give a hearing at its office, 20 Beacon street, on Friday, Nov. 1, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon on the question of the extension of tracks of the Bay State Street railway in Varnum avenue, William D. Regan, counsel for the railroad, has received the following letter from the railroad commissioners:

Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Board of Railroad Commissioners, 20 Beacon street, Boston, Oct. 22, 1912.

William D. Regan, Esq., Wyman's Exchange, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Upon petition of residents of the city of Lowell, members of the municipal government of said city and members of the general court from said city, relative to extension of tracks of the Bay State Street railway in Varnum avenue, from Lexington avenue to Trotting Park road, in Lowell, the board will give a hearing at its office, 20 Beacon street, Boston, on Friday, Nov. 1, 1912, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon.

Very truly yours,

Charles E. Mann, Clerk of the Board.

A FINE ENTERTAINMENT

Ladies Were Guests at Highland Club

Last night, Ladies' Night, was to have been observed at the Highland club and, owing to the disagreeable weather, the attendance was smaller than it would have been under favorable weather conditions. It was decided by the entertainment committee to postpone the affair until Friday night.

However, all of those present last night enjoyed themselves, as bowling, billiards, pool and whist were played by both the ladies and gentlemen. Music was furnished by the Titania orchestra under the direction of Miss Barlett Mansur. Mrs. F. L. Roberts sang some very beautiful selections, which were greatly appreciated by everyone. This entertainment was the opening of the fall season and many other entertainments are to follow.

Probably there is not another club in the state that has a club house or club grounds equal to the Highland club. The club house is an immense building finely equipped and furnished throughout. The grounds are beautifully laid out and are kept in splendid condition.

The entertainment committee for the Ladies' Night is as follows: Chairman, Frederick G. Woodworth; W. E. Potter, J. W. Kernan, Albert G. McCurdy, and H. E. Webster.

The following is the list of the officers of the club: President, Maurice E. Valliant; vice president, J. H. Saffron; treasurer, C. F. Libbey; secretary, Richard Charlton; directors, J. F. Owens, Cyrus Barton, G. H. Hawley, F. W. Sherman and O. H. Webster.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL

Eleven Has a Tough Game Saturday

Coach Mahoney's gridiron army of the Lowell high school will find themselves "up against" quite a difficult proposition next Saturday in the persons of the Boston Latin eleven who will be their opponents at Washington park. The Boston Latin aggregation are rated by many followers of the sport and football writers as Boston's best and they will journey to the Spindle City with no lesser expectations than for a decisive victory. And yet Eddie Cawley's warriors are not laying down to anybody and with characteristic pluck they declare that the game is not won until the last whistle blows. Consequently fans may expect a good exhibition Saturday afternoon.

It is encouraging and highly pleasing to note that authorities comment favorably on the football teams of the Merrimack valley. In particular the Haverhill and Everett high school elevens are supposed to be about the best in New England and the game between these two rivals which will be played in Everett on Saturday will be a big factor in deciding the championship.

Authorities at the high school have been notified that in using the Middlesex street entrance to Washington park they are trespassing on private land and so in the future those who attend the games are asked to make use of the entrance on Saunders street. Because of this new circumstance, automobiles will be prevented from entering the grounds but they may be parked on Saunders street where they will be guarded by an officer.

The Boston Latin school game will start promptly at three o'clock and the admission will be 25 cents.

Post Office News

An examination for the positions of clerk and carrier is announced by the civil service commission to take place at the post office on November 3 and the salaries are graded from $500 to $1200 per year. The test will include spelling, arithmetic, letter writing, penmanship, copying and reading addresses and the age limits are 15 and 35 years.

St. Margaret's Church

A meeting of the ushers and others immediately connected with the dedication services of St. Margaret's church has been called for this evening and will take place in the rectory. The purpose is to complete the final arrangements for the services on Saturday. Father Galligan will be present and will confer with those present in regard to details.

Concord Bowling League

The games of the Concord bowling league, scheduled to be played on the alleys of the Young Men's Catholic Institute last night, were postponed because of the failure of several members of the teams to put in an appearance. Their absence was apparently due to the inclemency of the weather.

Boston & Maine News

In spite of the severe rain storm of the past two days, the trains of the Boston & Maine railroad have arrived and left on scheduled time. A special car containing a large party of laborers in the employ of the Grand Trunk and Pacific railroad passed through Lowell this morning on its way to the far Northwest, where the company is constructing a new line.

Humphrey O'Sullivan to the Voters of the 5th Congressional District

I respectfully ask your favorable consideration of my candidacy for Congress on Election Day, November Fifth.

I am seeking election to Congress possessed with a sincere and unselfish desire to render public service that will accomplish some good for my fellow citizens. I know I could do much good for the people of this district in Congress, and if you send me there, I assure you that you will not be disappointed in me.

From day to day I will discuss with you in these columns my views and attitude upon questions of public policy. Today permit me to submit a few of my ideas upon the policies of government.

I am in favor of encouraging the industries that are within or without the district, and the creation of conditions inviting others to locate here.

I am in favor of the development of agriculture by the introduction of U. S. government field demonstrators and the agricultural schools with a view of obtaining more scientific methods of farming.

I am in favor of a more generous reward for labor, especially in the textile industries and a broader recognition of all labor through the pay envelope, and I pledge my earnest endeavors to bring about such results, and to urge upon congress legislation favorable to the masses rather than the classes.

I am in favor of treating all labor in a magnanimous, generous and appreciative spirit.

I am in favor of a REVISION of the TARIFF DOWNWARD TO THE POINT WHERE A MARGIN OF SAFETY SHALL BE MAINTAINED FOR THE PROTECTION OF AMERICAN LABOR AND to produce enough revenue to support the government economically administered.

I am in favor of abolishing all duties on meats, flour and other food-stuffs and of enacting a law that will effectively prevent the sale of American products cheaper abroad than at home.

I am in favor of legislation that will cause the deepening of the Merrimack river from Nashua to Lowell, and from Lowell to the sea.

I am in favor of insular canals and all other means of lowering present transportation charges which are a burden to our industries and our people.

I am in favor of having the price of hauling coal from Boston to Lowell reduced, and that Lowell be allowed rates as favorable as those of any other city in the Union for a similar haul, and that, if necessary, recourse be had to the Inter-State Commerce Commission for relief.

I am opposed to the Postal Savings Banks in their present form, as they take money out of the state, pay only half as much interest as the regular savings banks, which furnish ample safety to everyone and loan their funds to workers to secure homes.

I am in favor of a law compelling the government to hold within New England the postal savings bank funds of New England, that they may be loaned to the working people, and to farmers who want to improve and develop their farms.

I am in favor of a law regulating the cold storage of foodstuffs, whereby they shall be released WHEN THE MARKET LEVEL OF PRICES EXCEEDS 10 PER CENT ABOVE A TEN-YEAR AVERAGE.

ABOVE ALL, I ASK YOU TO REMEMBER THAT I AM SO SITUATED IN LIFE AS TO BE IN A POSITION TO SERVE ONLY THE PUBLIC INTERESTS. I HAVE NO OTHER INTERESTS TO REPRESENT IN CONGRESS.

(Signed) HUMPHREY O'SULLIVAN,
105 Butterfield St.

One Rainy Day Like This

Aroused Mrs. Homebody to action. She said: "I must protect my floorings from tracks of mud and dirt." So straightway she called up C. B. COBURN Co. (that old firm, in new quarters) and they told her all about their door-mats. She learned that she could get any size door mat made to order, but she ordered one of the standard sizes and they delivered it forthwith.

NEXT SATURDAY, OCT. 26, AT 3.30 O'CLOCK

THE HENNESSEY PROPERTY IN TWO SEPARATE PARCELS.

THE FIRST PARCEL CONSISTS OF A TWO-TENEMENT HOUSE AND ABOUT 3678 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT 179 SALEM STREET.

THE SECOND PARCEL CONSISTS OF A FOUR-TENEMENT HOUSE, STORE, STABLES AND ABOUT 3100 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT 187 SALEM STREET.

On the premises regardless of any condition of the weather, I shall offer for absolute sale the above realty. The first parcel is a two-tenement house and about 3678 square feet of land. There are seven rooms with one tenant and six with the other. The toilets are on the same floors, gas throughout, and marble mantels in the parlors. The house is in first class condition inside and out. One tenement rents for $17 a month and the other for $13 a month, making a total rental of $300 a year. The lot has a good frontage on Salem street and extends back to Decatur avenue, where there is also a large frontage.

Now, then, for someone who is looking for a two-tenement house right in the heart of the city and within 10 minutes' walk of many industries, and in a location where property always rents well, here is your opportunity.

Terms: $300 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

SECOND PARCEL AT 4 O'CLOCK

Consists of a four-tenement house, store, stable and about 3100 square feet of land. It adjoins the first parcel with a large concrete passageway between them. The house has two tenements of four rooms, which rent for $2 a week each, one tenement of eight rooms which rent for $4 a month, and of three rooms which rents for $7 a month, the store rents for $8 a month, and the stable rents for $5 a month, making a total yearly rental of $590. Every part of it is rented to first class tenants. The building is in the shape inside and out. Like the first parcel it has a large frontage on Salem street and Decatur avenue.

Here is a proposition that should interest the speculator as the properties are in good shape and have been well cared for. They would not be for sale at any price but for the reason that the present owner has moved to another part of the city.

Terms: $400 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off. Make all inquiries of the auctioneer, whom I have left in full charge.
